MILITARY CHIEFS RENDEZVOUS

ESTES SAYS:

'Soviet Planes Faster'

Kefauver Blames Ike's Failure To Decide

ROCHESTER, N.H. (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said Monday night Russia is now producing a "super-sonic bomber" which "can out-run the fighters now available."

"We have no such bomber even on the drawing boards as far as I am aware," the Democratic presidential contender declared as he wound up a five-day barnstorming campaign for votes in New Hampshire's first-in-the-nation presidential primary a week from today.

There was no official comment from the Air Force in Washington, which is always reluctant to contradict a senator. Privately, however, officers said they thought Kefauver was talking about Russia's B-52 type Bison bomber, which they do not believe to be supersonic.

Kefauver charged that President Eisenhower's "failure" to make decisions and the Republican administration's desire for a balanced budget in this election year has enabled the Soviet Union to surpass this nation by a better than 4-1 margin in production of supersonic fighters.

Kefauver charged that President Eisenhower's "failure" to make decisions and the Republican administration's desire for a balanced budget in this election year has enabled the Soviet Union to surpass this nation by a better than 4-1 margin in production of supersonic fighters.

Speaks At Dinner
In a speech prepared for delivery at a dinner meeting of his supporters here, Kefauver said:

"The Soviet Union is far in the lead of the United States in the production of supersonic fighters—fighters designed to bring down bombers carrying atomic and nuclear weapons. It is estimated by one source that at the end of the current year the Soviet Union will have produced as many as 8,000 of these supersonic fighters."

"Unless I am wrongly informed, the Soviet Union at the end of this year will have available four times as many of these supersonic fighters as we will have available at the end of next year."

"As far as a better plane than the F100 is concerned—and the F100 is our best supersonic fighter—we have not moved beyond designs on the drawing boards."

"Of even greater concern to us is the report that the Soviet Union now has a supersonic bomber in production—that is, a bomber which can out-run the fighters now available. We have no such bomber even on the drawing boards as far as I am aware."

"They Must Be Right"
Kefauver said he "cannot vouch for the exactness" of his figures but added "in essence, they must be right or nearly so."

When newsmen asked Kefauver where he obtained his information, the senator said it came from "a reliable source" which he declined to identify.

Much of the senator's prepared address was devoted to a contention that Eisenhower's "team can make no decision, and the President will not."

"There are some decisions that cannot be made for a President, regency or no regency, team or no team," Kefauver said. "But the hour has gone by on some decisions of crucial importance."

He said the Eisenhower administration "has come forward with no plan for disarmament" because Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson cannot agree.

Claim Wisconsin's 28
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A leading backer of Sen. Kefauver said Monday Adlai Stevenson has backed away from competing with Kefauver in Wisconsin's April 5 presidential primary, "giving Wisconsin's 28 votes" in the Democratic national convention to Kefauver.

Delancy M. Smith, San Francisco attorney and a member of Kefauver's six-man national policy committee, told a news conference:

"Stevenson has withdrawn from Wisconsin in the sense he didn't file. I know he intended to file. I think the fact he hasn't is a significant development. It means giving Wisconsin's 28 votes to Kefauver."

Iowan Swears Neff Offered Money For Hickenlooper Vote

... Nebraskan Says Story Is 'Substantially True'

By WILMOT HERCHER

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Iowa lawyer swore Monday that lawyer-lobbyist John M. Neff offered $2,500 for Sen. Hickenlooper's vote in favor of the natural gas bill. Wendell T. Edson of Storm Lake, Iowa, told a special Senate committee that Neff visited him last fall as a representative of the Superior Oil Co. of California and offered to drop the money in Hickenlooper's campaign kitty if the Iowa Republican voted for the bill.

Neff, called back before the investigators, acknowledged that Edson's story was essentially correct. "I would say from his point of view it was substantially true," Neff said.

'Hot Potato'
Edson testified he considered the offer "a hot potato" and that he never told Hickenlooper about it. The inquiry has brought out that no money was ever contributed by Neff to Hickenlooper's campaign fund.

Hickenlooper voted for the gas bill, a controversial measure to exempt natural gas producers from direct federal price control. When the legislation reached the White House last month, however, President Eisenhower vetoed it with a slap at the "arrogance"

MBS Will Give Demos Free Time

NEW YORK (AP)—The Mutual Broadcasting System reversed itself Monday and gave free air time to the Democratic party to reply to President Eisenhower's speech of last week announcing he would seek a second term.

It was the only radio or television network to do so. Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) was chosen as the Democratic spokesman to make the reply.

Mutual and the other outlets turned down the original Democratic request for equal radio-TV time to answer the President. Mutual said it still doesn't feel any legal obligation to grant the time. But it said it now is willing to do so "because of public service considerations."

Sparkman is scheduled to make his reply from 9 to 9:30 p.m. CST, Wednesday, March 7.

Orders For Removal Of Grain From Producing Belt Revealed

Shipping instructions for the removal from Nebraska's country elevators of 6,400,000 bushels of grain, mostly wheat, destined for terminal and sub-terminal points outside the grain belt have been revealed by James Lemley, federal Commodity Credit Corporation chief for Nebraska.

Lemley said the grain movement would continue through March to provide basic capacity in Nebraska elevators for the 1956 wheat crop.

An additional 2,000,000 bushels has been set up for removal at harvest time if needed to relieve local troubled spots.

Current shipments are going principally to warehouses near the gulf.

Nebraska country bin space relief, Lemley said, is preceding the April 1 date for movement of on-farm storage.

The current movement in Lem-and "highly questionable activities" of some of its advocates.

Neff was confronted Monday with his prior testimony that, as far as he could recall, he had told the committee about "every offer... every undertaking" in connection with the gas bill. Charles W. Steadman, committee counsel, asked him why he hadn't mentioned his visit to Edson.

"I had not thought of the Storm Lake incident," the Lexington, Neb., lawyer, replied.

Neff said he couldn't recall any

Inter-State Road Bid Start Seen

Bids for at least one section of the inter-state highway between Lincoln and Omaha will be asked in the late fall, State Engineer L. N. Rens said Monday.

The route to be traveled will be from the South Omaha bridge to the Lancaster-Seward County line. Rens said the department entered into an agreement Monday with the J. E. Greiner Co., Baltimore, Md., consulting engineers, to complete a traffic and engineering study of the proposed inter-state system for the first section starting at the Missouri river and continuing to Seward County.

Work will be completed in 90 days, Rens said. A traffic survey has been completed by state employees and results will be turned over to the consultants.

Rens said he was positive that if the engineers complete their work in 90 days plans can be completed in time to ask for bids on one unit yet this year.

The state engineer estimated that the proposed unit of four-lane divided highway probably would cost about $32,000,000. Progress on the highway will depend on the speed with which construction funds are available, Rens declared.

He pointed out that present funds were limited and require that the state contribute 60 per cent. This must be used before further federal funds are available.

In a bill before Congress it is proposed that the states will only have to contribute 10 per cent while government will pay the remaining 90 per cent.

other "incidents" of that nature about which he has not already told the senators. He added that he has not been employed by anyone except Superior Oil and "Mr. Keck" in connection with the gas bill.

On that note, the special committee's inquiry apparently ended. Chairman George (D-Ga.) announced that as far as he now knows there will be no further public hearings.

The four-man committee was appointed by the Senate last month to investigate Neff's offer of $2,500 for the campaign fund of Sen. Case (R-SD) during the debate on the gas bill. Case rejected the offer and voted against the measure.

Came To Light Late
Neff's activities in Iowa didn't come to light until the committee had got well into the Case incident.

Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) disclosed over the weekend that he received a $250 campaign gift from the Keck family, which controls Superior Oil.

Asked Monday whether he intended to withdraw from an eight-man committee named to take up the lobbying investigation where the special group left off, Goldwater said: "Hell, no."

"I am not going to get off the committee and if they want a fight let them try to throw me off," he told reporters. "There is nothing illegal or unethical about Bill Keck's campaign contribution to me."

Goldwater voted for the gas bill. George said his committee has no intention of looking into the Keck contribution to Goldwater's campaign fund.

'Not Relevant'
"That happened long before the Case incident," George said. "I do not believe it is relevant to our inquiry."

The George committee almost concurred its hearings without getting Edson's story about the Hickenlooper offer. The investigation had ended last Friday without establishing whether Neff had

Rep. Lane Named In Tax Case

Charges Claim He Didn't Pay $38,542

BOSTON (AP)—A federal grand jury Monday indicted veteran Rep. Thomas J. Lane (D-Mass.) on charges he and his wife, filing jointly, evaded $38,542 in income taxes from 1949 through 1951. His wife was not indicted.

The indictment charged that the 57-year-old lawyer, a congressman since 1941, evaded $18,532.44 in income taxes in 1949, $9,485.83 in 1950 and $10,524.53 in 1951 by failing to report true income.

Lane's Washington office said he would have no comment. Federal Judge Charles E. Wyzanski warned the 23 grand jurors that "when you gave your oath" you were reminded that grand jury proceedings were secret, and he warned newsmen:

"This court does not intend to allow a repetition of what happened in the U.S. court to Delaney (Denis J. Delaney, former collector of internal revenue at Boston, who won a new trial on tax evasion charges because of undue publicity).

'Responsible'
"The press is free to print the indictment but I warn if it prejudices a fair trial they will be held responsible."

Lane and Delaney, who was reconvicted in a second trial, are cousins.

The indictment against Lane charged that he and his wife, in a joint return, claimed income of $14,311.92 in 1949 and paid a $2,673.56 tax. The government claims their true income was $57,497.28 and their tax should have been $21,206.

They reported an income of $20,991.03 in 1950 and paid a tax of $4,708.16. The prosecution maintains their true income for that year was $43,198.05 on which a tax of $14,193.99 should have been paid.

The Lanes' joint income for 1951 was reported as $30,956.43 and they paid a $9,515 tax. The government claims their true income for 1951 was $50,470 on which they should have paid a $20,039.53 tax.

The jury foreman reported the indictment to Judge Wyzanski in federal court.

Costello Loses His High Court Fight Against Jail Term

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gambler Frank Costello lost in the Supreme Court Monday his fight to avoid serving a five-year prison term for income tax evasion.

In New York, U.S. Atty. Paul W. Williams said that as soon as the Supreme Court's mandate is received there Costello will be told when to appear in Federal Court and start serving his sentence.

In addition to the prison sentence now facing him, Costello is involved in a deportation proceeding. The government is seeking to void his 1925 naturalization and send him back to his native Italy. He is accused of falsely swearing he was of good moral character at the time he became a U.S. citizen.

Floete Sworn In

Franklin G. Floete of Des Moines, Ia., former Lincoln business man, is shown in Washington Monday after he was sworn in as administrator of the General Services Administration. He succeeds Edmund F. Mansure, who resigned recently. Floete served as president of the Woods Brothers Construction Company and the Lancaster Corporation until 1941 when he moved to Des Moines, where he owned and operated the Iowa Ford Tractor Co. until retiring in 1952. Meat State Governors To Hold Session

DES MOINES (AP)—Gov. Leo Hoegh said Monday it appeared a conference of "meat state" governors will be held about March 19-20 at a city not yet selected.

Hoegh told his news conference he had received replies from 14 governors expressing approval of a proposal by himself and Gov. Victor Anderson of Nebraska. The proposal is a meat promotion program to be financed by a voluntary levy on producers at the time they market their livestock.

The governor last month sent letters to governors of 24 of the leading meat producing states. He asked their co-operation in the meat promotion plan.

Hoegh said he planned to get in touch with Gov. Anderson this week to decide whether to hold the conference and if so where.

Airman Listed As Lincolnite Not On Ill-Fated Plane

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The Air Force said Monday night that Lloyd E. Bailey, Lincoln, Neb., Airman First Class, at first listed as being on the Globemaster that crashed near Iceland, was not on the plane. In a last minute switch he was one of five men taken off the plane, officials said.

Bailey, with his wife Elizabeth, was listed in the city director as living at 324 So. 24th. However, he does not reside there now. His parents' names were unavailable.

The ill-fated plane was the one which A1 Ronald J. Hoffman, 22, was aboard. Hoffman's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Hoffman Jr., of 1035 Garber.

In all 17 Air Force personnel presumably perished when the huge transport plunged into icy North Atlantic waters last Friday.

Tackle 'Flock Of Problems'

Joint Chiefs Of Staff Slip Secretly Out Of Capital To Puerto Rico Meet

WASHINGTON (AP)—America's top military commanders have assembled secretly in Puerto Rico for an intensive "new look" at this country's defense strategy in the light of changing world conditions.

News that the Joint Chiefs of Staff had left for a week-long huddle was confirmed Monday night by the Pentagon.

A spokesman there said the military chiefs flew to a secluded rendezvous in Puerto Rico last Saturday. Confirmation of the meeting came after reporters noted the absence of the chiefs and began asking questions.

The meeting, the first of its kind to be held in such secrecy, is taking place at Ramey Air Force Base at the northwestern tip of Puerto Rico, a commonwealth associated with the United States. The sessions are under the chairmanship of Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs.

Presumably the whole range of U. S. military forces, their size and disposition, and all manner of new atomic age weapon development are under review.

Secretary of Defense Wilson disclosed last Jan. 12 that he had ordered the new study. He said then that defense planning must be on a continuing long-range basis, "characterized by a stability which is not materially disturbed by every propaganda effort of unfriendly nations or wishful thinking on the part of ourselves or our allies."

Sharp Criticism
There have been sharp complaints by some Congress members that this country's defense efforts are lagging, particularly in the development of new missiles and high speed planes. The Senate Armed Services Committee has set up a special subcommittee to look into the situation.

The Defense Department said, in response to inquiries, that the military chiefs left "with the approval of Defense Secretary Wilson."

It said that at Ramey Field "they will be able to devote their full time for this week without interruption to Joint Chiefs of Staff business."

Other Problems
A spokesman said that the military "new look" is not the "exclusive" reason for the secret departure and secluded conference of the chiefs. He said there is a "whole flock of problems," that the military strategists have to consider.

An earlier "new look" at national strategy and the military means to carry it out was undertaken by the Joint Chiefs on instructions from President Eisenhower in 1953.

That resulted in a decision to reduce the number of men in uniform in all of the services except the Air Force. Out of that study also developed an increasing emphasis on new weapons, particularly those adaptable to the use of atomic power for both offense and defense.

Wilson told senators in January that, although he foresaw no major changes in the over-all level of U.S. military forces during the next few years, there would be continuing changes in line with scientific progress and changes in the international situation.

All Chiefs Free
A senior Pentagon spokesman said that this week was chosen for the secluded session in Puerto Rico because it was the first time this year that all of the Joint Chiefs have been free from appearances before Congress and other important details that held them close to Washington.

In addition to Adm. Radford, the leaders attending the meeting are Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief, Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, and Gen. Randolph Pate, commandant of the Marine Corps.

The Pentagon maintained official silence Monday night about the specific problems facing the military chiefs in Puerto Rico.

It was suggested in line with Secretary Wilson's reference to changing international situations—that the new face that Russia is wearing before the world, and its effect upon some allies and neutrals alike, would enter into the discussions.

Ike Joins Maryland Primary
... $270 Fee Paid

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower gave written consent Monday to the filing of his name in Maryland's May 7 presidential primary and personally put up the $270 filing fee.

The President's certificate of candidacy was delivered at the Secretary of State's office in Annapolis by his former appointment secretary, Thomas E. Stephens, who performed a similar task in California last week.

The White House said Mr. Eisenhower personally paid out the money for filing his name in Maryland, which has both a presidential preference primary and a delegate contest for 14 district and 10 at-large delegates.

Mr. Eisenhower certified that he was a Republican and gave his address as "Rural Delivery No. 2, Adams County, Pennsylvania." This is the address of his Gettysburg farm.

Strategy Talk
This move was accompanied by these other developments in the political picture.

1. Mr. Eisenhower held his first second-term campaign strategy conference. He met with Brig. Gen. John Reed Kilpatrick, chairman of the national Citizens for Eisenhower organization. Kilpatrick said his group will operate in all 48 states and already has been making rather encouraging progress.

2. A slate of delegates pledged to Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) was filed in the Maryland Democratic presidential primary. The move appears likely to tie up Maryland's 18 convention votes for Kefauver. The deadline for filing was midnight and there was no indication that supporters of Adlai Stevenson had intended to enter the race.

3. Former President Harry S. Truman said in Kansas City he is willing to stump for the Democratic party this year, as he did in 1952, but emphasized that this decision is "up to the candidates and the national chairman."

4. Sen. Francis Case (R-SD), warned Democrats that any campaign against President Eisenhower on the health issue "will be as self-defeating" as a similar campaign would have been against the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, a polio victim.

THE SERMON ON THE MOUNT

Stories From The Life Of Jesus

(The eighteenth chapter of The Star's Lenten Series.)

By APRIL OURSLER ARMSTRONG

Twelve men sat on a mountain-side, alone with Jesus. There on the sunlit ledge He told them all a soul needs to know of God and the world, of today, and the life to come.

What does it mean to be a Christian? It means to live in happiness. Jesus came to offer happiness. He did not say we would escape pain, or tears, sickness, or poverty. But He promised that in spite of those things we could still be happy, and blessed.

What must we do to be truly happy? Jesus gave us eight rules, called the Beatitudes, because those who live by them are blessed.

"Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven," said Jesus.

And He meant: Happy are they who are humble and not proud. "Blessed are the meek, for they shall possess the land," said Jesus.

And He meant: Accept God's will, believe that because He is good, everything He does is good, and you will find happiness. Then nothing that happens can frighten you, or make you feel forsaken.

"Blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted," said Jesus.

And He meant: You who sorrow for others who are in trouble, and help them, shall find happiness.

"Blessed are they that hunger for righteousness, for they shall be filled," said Jesus.

And He meant: Those who strive for the good, shall be satisfied.

"Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God," said Jesus.

And He meant: Those who are free from evil thoughts, shall see God.

"Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy," said Jesus.

And He meant: Those who are kind to all, shall receive kindness from God.

The twelve men sat in silence. In their hearts His words repeated themselves—the eight rules of Christian life, so difficult, so simple.

Britain Recalls Top Officers From Jordan

Sharp Action Taken By Eden

Foreign Office Feels Danger Of Aggression In Middle East Comes From Arab Side

LONDON (AP) — An angry Prime Minister Eden Monday recalled the top British officers of Jordan's Arab Legion. The sharp action was taken because the Foreign Office has concluded for the first time that the danger of aggression arises from the Arab side in the Middle East dispute with Israel.

Eden's announcement in the House of Commons was a direct retort to the summary dismissal last Thursday of Lt. Gen. John Bagot Glubb, the creator of Jordan's desert army. Eden charged Jordan's young Hashemite King, Hussein, had been ungenerous in his treatment of the legendary "Glubb Pasha."

The 15 officers on the active list of the British army who are serving in Jordan are being withdrawn, Eden said. These men were in the top echelon of command. The future of about 50 other junior officers who have contracted with the Jordan government for their services will be discussed with Amman, the prime minister added.

No Comment On Subsidy
He refused to discuss for now the further matter of Britain's annual military subsidy of more than $2-million-dollars-a-year to Jordan.

The implications in the thinking of the Foreign Office, reflected in the decision to withdraw the top British officers, could be far-reaching. It could mean the British will no longer use their influence against a flow of defensive weapons to Israel.

Israeli Plane Downed
JERUSALEM (AP) — Syrian gunfire downed an Israeli plane Monday in the tense Galilee region. On other sides Israeli and Jordan forces clashed briefly in the southern Negev and there were exchanges of Israeli-Egyptian gunfire.

Pears again mounted over possibility of general Arab-Israeli warfare.

Israeli officials said the plane was machine-gunned while flying over its own territory in upper Galilee. They said the pilot was wounded and the plane made an emergency landing on the Israeli side.

A Damascus communique said Syrian anti-aircraft guns opened fire on the Israeli plane when it made a low level flight over Syrian territory.

The gunfire drove the Israeli plane back to its own territory, where it landed "leaving a trail of smoke behind," the Syrian communique added.

Second Incident
It was the second incident in two days in that area. Sunday three Israeli policemen were killed and a fourth wounded in an Israeli clash on the northeast shore of the Sea of Galilee.

An Israeli statement said an Israeli patrol exchanged fire with a group of Jordanians who penetrated into Israel near the Biblical city of Lachish, now called Tell Ed Duweir. This is about 25 miles southwest of Jerusalem near the edge of the Negev Desert.

The Israelis forced the Jordanians to retreat, the Israeli account said. It made no mention of casualties.

$33,732 Aid Given Schools Teaching Service Children

First semester payments totaling $33,732 have gone to six Nebraska school districts which qualify for state aid because they enroll pupils whose parents are service men living on property acquired by the Federal government, the State Department of Education reported Monday.

Tuition is paid by the state at the rate of $3 per week per pupil in the elementary school, and $6 per week for high school students.

Bellevue, which receives pupils from Offutt Air Force Base, received $28,944 of such state aid in the first semester.

Other payments: Grand Island, $50; Hastings, $1,134; Omaha, $2,640; Sidney, $216, and Wahoo, $258.

PEACE TRY AT CYPRUS COLLAPSES

... Britain Reveals

LONDON (AP)—Britain announced Monday night the collapse of negotiations to bring peace to troubled Cyprus.

And a threat by Prime Minister Eden's government to use its military might to enforce law and order on the eastern Mediterranean island colony drew immediate defiance from Cypriot leaders.

"We shall in no circumstances strike the flag of self-determination," Archbishop Makarios, leader of the island's union-with-Greece movement, told a news conference at Nicosia.

"We shall struggle to the last, resisting passively illegal sovereignty over the island," Makarios accused British representatives at the negotiations of intransigence and of showing no understanding of the Greek Cypriot point of view.

Breakdown Announced
The breakdown of the talks was announced to the House of Commons by the Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd.

He said Britain had offered the Cypriots a wide measure of self-government but made it clear the Eden government could not accept all of the demands presented by Makarios, American-educated leader of the 400,000 Greek-speaking residents who are demanding the right of self-determination leading to eventual union with Greece.

Britain has about 50,000 troops on Cyprus, headquarters of its Middle East air and land forces.

R. V. Dickeson Is President Of Unitarians

Roger V. Dickeson Monday night was named president of the board of trustees of the Lincoln Unitarian Church at the 58th annual meeting and dinner of the church.

Dr. J. Melvin Boykin was named vice president and Mrs. Victor R. Seymour secretary of the board. Joseph Sewall was re-elected treasurer.

New members of the board elected by the church membership include Mrs. E. Mott Davis, Mrs. Seymour, Douglas Brogden and Mrs. Ralph R. Marlette and Leonard Brogden for two-year terms.

Holdover board members include Dickeson, Sewall, Dr. Albert Schrecker, Dr. John Steinman and Caleb Foote.

Retiring president of the board is F. W. Putney.

Approved at the meeting was a 1956 budget totaling $10,781, an increase over 1955 of $1,241. Increases in both church and church school membership were reported.

Also elected were three members of the church's committee on committees. They are Daniel W. Bernd, a one-year term, and Charles A. Roberts and Mrs. Joseph Sewall, both for two-year terms.

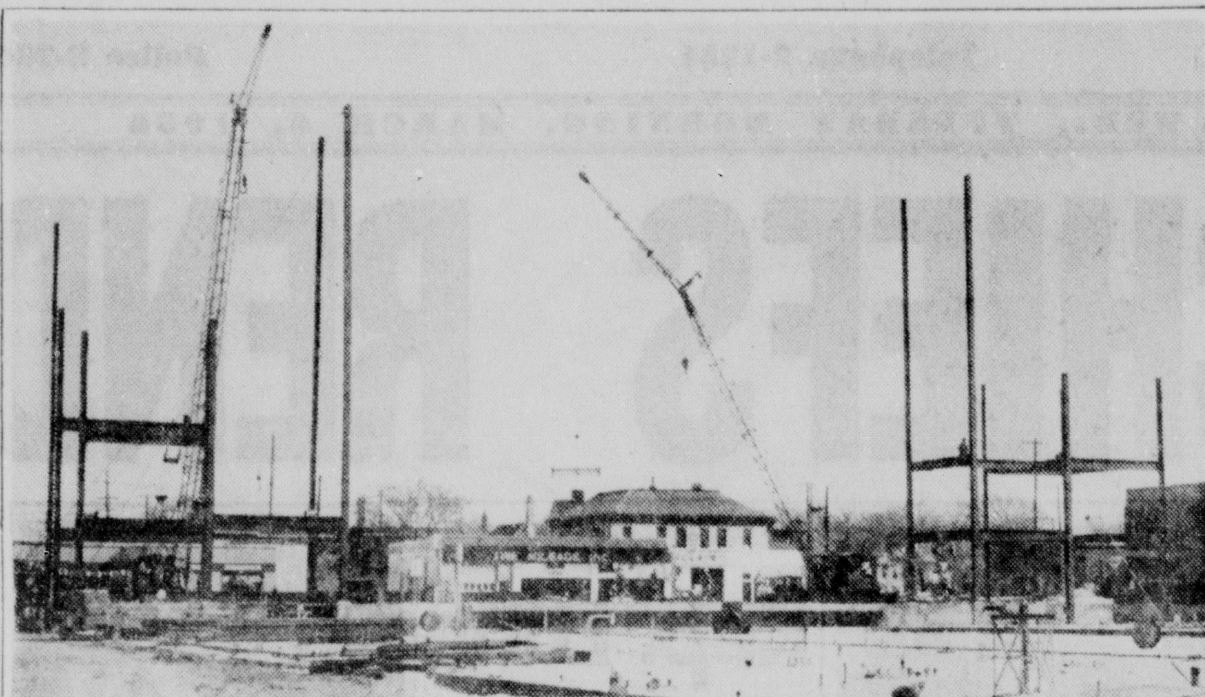

Mrs. Seymour and Brogden were appointed to the committee by the board of trustees and Brogden was named temporary chairman.

Erection Of Steel Structure Begins

The new city auditorium begins to take shape as the first structural steel is erected. The first structural steel was delivered to the auditorium site Monday, the first load of about 200 deliveries which will be made from the Lincoln Steel Works within the next few weeks. Truckers will move approximately 1,400 tons of structural steel. A great portion of the 320 tons of re-inforcing steel and 224,000 square feet of re-inforcing mesh being used in the building has already been installed, most of it in the basement walls. Kenneth Dodge of Olson Construction Co. said that all the structural steel for the project is in town now, and no further delay in construction due to a hold-up in delivery of steel is expected. (Star Photo.)

Big 3 Readies New Mid-East Conference

... Tension Climbs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, Britain and France called another meeting for Tuesday in their search for ways of preserving the Palestine truce.

New upheavals in the Middle East added to the urgency.

The meeting, scheduled for 4 p.m. at the State Department, was disclosed by Lincoln White, department press officer. He told his news conference it will be a continuation of "similar meetings held from time to time to discuss the situation in the Middle East."

The Reasons
This was the background for the session:

1. American optimism over prospects for a Middle East settlement was on the wane.

2. Prime Minister Eden ordered the recall of all 15 senior British officers in Jordan in reaction to Jordan's ouster of Lt. Gen. John Glubb as head of Jordan's Arab Legion.

3. New border clashes were reported between Israel and her Arab neighbors.

Airman Pleads Innocent; Bound To District Court

Jethel Harris, a 27-year-old Lincoln Air Force Base airman, pleaded innocent Monday in Lancaster County Court to charges of assault with intent to do great bodily injury and carrying a concealed weapon.

Harris is charged with assaulting a 32-year-old Lincoln woman striking and bruising her, in connection with an incident last Saturday morning just east of the Turnpike Ballroom, located south of Lincoln.

The woman has been admitted to a Lincoln hospital for observation.

Harris is also charged with unlawfully carrying a concealed revolver. Harris was picked up by the Nebraska Safety Patrol, which was summoned to the scene by a passing motorist. The woman claimed she was struck on the head by the defendant after being taken there in the defendant's car.

Harris, who was represented by an attorney, waived preliminary hearing in county court and was bound over to District Court under $2,500 bond.

James A. Garner Dies At Age Of 75

James A. (Fred) Garner, 75, who lived at the Nebraska Hotel, died Monday. He had lived in Lincoln for 35 years.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Wednesday at Wadlow's, Dr. Frank A. Court officiating. Burial will be at Mt. Pleasant Cemetery north of Milford. Seward Lodge 26, IOOF, will conduct graveside services.

Mr. Garner was born in Seward County near Milford, and came to Lincoln from Seward. He had been employed as an engineer at the Capital Hotel for about 10 years. He was a member of Seward Lodge 26, IOOF.

Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Constance Garton, Mrs. Ella McGirr and Mrs. Ruth Foutch, all of Boulder, Colo.; and two brothers, Harry of Seward and Edward E. of Grand Junction, Colo.

Stocks Reach Another High

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market hit another high Monday as prices advanced from $1 to around $5 a share.

Rails were spurred by the new 6 per cent freight rate increase. Coppers and nonferrous metals were strong also in active trading.

Steel stocks were mixed, however, and a number of stocks in other divisions fell. Losses ranged to about $2 a share.

The Associated Press 60-stock average climbed $1.40 to a record $183 with industrials up $1.40, rails $2.10 and utilities 40 cents.

Volume totaled 3,090,000 shares compared with 2,860,000 Friday.

Judges May Rule On Grand Jury Petition This Week

The Lancaster District Court judges may rule this week on the petitions asking that a grand jury be called.

The petitions with 1,145 signatures were filed Sept. 29 by Richard Baker of 2045 E. Manor Drive, and show-cause hearing was held in December, after which the four judges took the matter under submission.

Judge John L. Polk, assignment judge, said the judges planned to work on the matter this week.

The petitions, placed in circulation following disturbances at the State Penitentiary and Reformatory last year, suggested an investigation of penal administration.

Baker headed the group which circulated the petitions. The first set of petitions was dissolved by the court for lack of sufficient qualified signatures.

Dental Society Speaker Urges Speed, Care

Dr. Meigs Jones, Kansas City dentist, urged members of the Lincoln District Dental Society to "treat patients with tender love and care."

Dr. Jones, a 1934 graduate of the University of Kansas City College of Dentistry, spoke to the society Monday evening.

He encouraged the proper handling of patients "to let them know things can and will be done faster." Dr. Jones said he has a half-hour pre-clinical conference with each new patient to reassure him and discuss his dental problems.

"Dentistry at its best is a very exacting profession. Today dentistry can be done fast and well," he said.

"If I were 60 years old and still practicing dentistry, I would immediately jump into high speed," Dr. Jones said.

He said that high speed should be understood by the patient to avoid tension or apprehension.

The time of the patient is as valuable or more so than that of the dentist, he said, and in this era of economic change we must realize the need for fast and efficient work.

Reckless Driving Charge Costs Girl, 18, Fine Of $50

An 18-year-old girl Monday was fined $50 in Municipal Court after pleading guilty to a charge of reckless driving.

Charged was Mary Poggemeyer, 4500 So. 40th.

Testimony in court said Miss Poggemeyer turned a corner at 13th and P Sts. at an excessive speed and collided with two parked cars. One of the cars sheared off a parking meter which flew through a window.

There were no injuries. The accident occurred Saturday afternoon.

Iowan Swears Neff Offered Fund For Vote

made any offer to contribute to the Iowan's campaign fund.

A few hours later however, it was decided to make one more attempt. Edson's name was on a list of additional witnesses to be called.

At that time the committee was concentrating on the testimony of Rober K Goodwin of Des Moines, GOP national committeeman for Iowa, who had related that Neff visited him twice last year, offering him a $2,500 for Hickenlooper's campaign on the first trip and $1,000 the second time.

Denied Offer
Neff denied offering Goodwin any money and said he saw him only once last November.

Steadman announced that the conflict in testimony had been referred to the Justice Department, which will decide whether perjury charges are justified.

Hickenlooper was present at Monday's hearing, sitting at the committee's table. But he asked no questions and offered no comment later. He is not a committee member.

Neff testified he now recalled discussing a campaign contribution with Edson but said he doesn't remember discussing a figure of $2,500.

"Twenty-five hundred dollars just seems to stick out everywhere," he remarked. Then he said he didn't question the figure Edson gave.

As he recalls it, Neff continued, what he told Edson was:

"If in the event Sen. Hickenlooper was in favor of the bill I thought I could arrange a campaign contribution because I was interested in advancing that line of thinking and he was too."

Wanted 'Contact'
Edson testified Neff "didn't know me from Adam" at the time he called at Edson's office, but that Neff told him "he would like to have a personal contact made with Sen. Hickenlooper."

Neff told the investigators he did mention the possibility of an expense allowance for Edson if Edson made a trip to talk to Hickenlooper, and that he was thinking of perhaps hiring Edson when he spoke to him.

Before anything was said about money, Edson testified, he had agreed to write to Hickenlooper. But he never wrote, he added.

He said $2,500 exceeded "our entire county quota" for Republican campaign purposes and seemed like "quite a lot of money" to him.

"It seemed like a hot potato, too," Edson continued. "I deemed it best to keep it quiet."

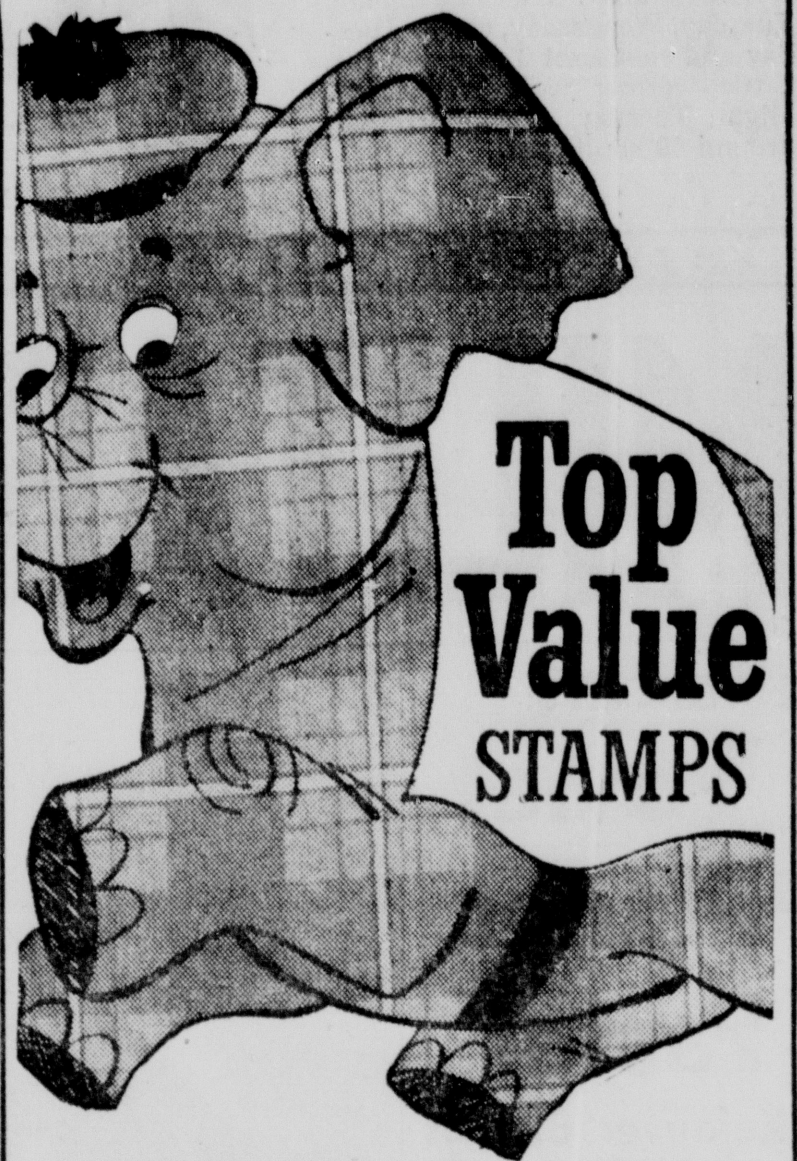

Steadman asked specifically whether the offer was "contingent on Sen. Hickenlooper voting for the bill" or saying he would vote for it.

"That is correct," Edson told him.

New Rector Installed In Divided Brooklyn Episcopal Church

Rev. Melish Is Displaced

NEW YORK (AP) — An Episcopal bishop Monday brushed aside objections and installed a new rector at Brooklyn's Holy Trinity Church. It was the latest step in the drama of a church divided against itself.

The controversy revolved around the rector displaced by Monday's action—the Rev. William Howard Melish, who has been accused of pro-Communist activities outside the church.

Rev. Melish was not present at the late afternoon installation service in the packed 102-year-old church. But his supporters were. Bishop James P. DeWolfe said "if any of you can show just cause why he (the Rev. Herman Sidener) may not be instituted we proceed no further because we would not (sic) that an unworthy person should minister among you."

Three Protest
One after the other, three Melish supporters rose in the nave and protested against the installation. Two were vestrymen and one was Rev. Melish's lawyer, a well-known Episcopal layman and former judge.

The bishop heard them out and ruled that their objections were not valid. He then proceeded with the installation.

After rejection of his protest, Rev. Melish's counsel, former Municipal Court Judge Hubert Delaney, told a reporter Rev. Melish would attempt to preach the Lenten service at midday on Friday.

This could bring a repetition of the scene in Holy Trinity on Sunday, Jan. 15, when Rev. Melish and another minister conducted services simultaneously.

7-Year Battle
The battle over Rev. Melish has been going on for seven years. Among other things, he served as chairman of the National Council of American-Soviet Friendship.

The Subversive Activities Control Board recently ruled this was a Communist front. Rev. Melish testified before the SACB in its behalf.

He has denied all allegations that he is or was a Communist. Ex-Communist Louis Budenz identified him as such in testimony before the SACB.

For years, Rev. Melish was supported by the church's governing body, the vestry, and by its parishioners. He has been serving as acting rector.

Lately, however, a split developed in the congregation, as well as in the vestry.

Melish is considered a "low church" Episcopalian, who favors a broad interpretation of church canons and doctrine. Bishop DeWolfe, on the other hand, is a "high church" Episcopalian who favors strict adherence to the canon law and the traditional ceremonial forms.

Religious Leader Plans Schedule

Dr. Louis Evans, minister-at-large with the National Presbyterian Board, discusses his schedule for Tuesday and Wednesday with Miss Glenna Berry, former president of the University of Nebraska City Campus Religious Council, one of the groups sponsoring the University's Religious Emphasis Week. Dr. Evans will speak in classes, at a breakfast and a luncheon, and in Bible study seminars Tuesday. His major talk will be given Wednesday evening. (Star Photo.)

'Definite Turn Toward Religion' Cited By Presbyterian Leader

"There is a definite turn toward religion. I don't know how deep it will be," Dr. Louis Evans said in Lincoln Monday night.

New minister-at-large for the Presbyterian National Board, Dr. Evans served for 12 years as pastor of the largest Presbyterian Church in the world and was named by Life magazine as one of the 12 outstanding religious leaders of America.

Dr. Evans said he had particularly noticed the increasing emphasis on things spiritual among the military and in athletic circles. He also said that attendance at laymen's religious conferences has increased tremendously and that most large business organizations' conventions are opening with a talk by a religious figure.

The Presbyterian minister, formerly pastor of First Presbyterian Church, of Hollywood, Calif., is in Lincoln to give several addresses at the University of Nebraska as part of Religious Emphasis Week. His major talk will be given at a University convocation at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday at the Student Union Ballroom.

Dr. Evans said that he felt many people were so tired of just making money they felt it was time to stop and think about why they are living.

"The top brass in the military department is tremendously interested in religion these days," he continued. Dr. Evans has traveled to many foreign countries and addressed American troops, and is soon being sent to Germany by the Pentagon to tour camps.

"Many universities, too, are having Religious Emphasis Weeks that never had them before," he said. The value of such weeks depends on what the students make out of them, he said. The week must be a token of what goes on all year, he said, placing special emphasis on a subject emphasized all the time.

Dr. Evans has the summer pastorate of the Presbyterian church in Washington, D. C., which President Eisenhower attends. "He's fine to talk to, and an earnest worshipper," Dr. Evans said of the President.

Legion Week Sees Membership Drive

This week has been proclaimed American Legion Birthday Week by Mayor Clark Jeary in Lincoln. The mayor called upon "all citizens and organizations to join in paying tribute to the good works of the American Legion in its efforts in Americanism, rehabilitation, child welfare, religious emphasis and community service."

The veterans organization is celebrating its 37th birthday during March.

In conjunction with Legion Week, American Legion Post 3 in Lincoln is conducting a membership drive aimed at the recruitment of 1,400 new members. With the present membership of 3,600, the goal of 5,000 local memberships would rank the Lincoln post sixth in the nation.

Elusive Thing Called Safety

Nebraska added seven more highway fatalities over the week-end to its 1956 running score. It brought the year's total thus far to 53—one fewer than at the same date in 1955, telling in figures that all the state's resolutions to the contrary notwithstanding, there has been no convincing headway made in the crusade for highway safety. At the present rate 1956 is going to wind-up as just another year with far too many fatal accidents, most of them preventable but not prevented.

It has been that way far too long. The nation can offer little excuse for its traffic tolls.

Portrait Of A Lonely Man

Clark Mollenhoff, of the Washington bureau of the Des Moines Register, writing in the Sunday Register of March 4, gave this portrait of South Dakota's Sen. Francis Case:

"In the big Senate caucus room, Sen. Francis Case usually sits alone these days. And in the halls of the Senate Office Building and the Capitol, the South Dakota Republican is walking alone."

We assume Sen. Case can take it—that is, while he may miss the warm comfortable companionship of his Republican and Democratic colleagues in the United States Senate, still he can go without it if need be. "Privately irked . . . his Senate colleagues have only one recourse—a cool avoidance of the man who started the fuss."

There have been other members of Congress—others serving in both the Senate and the

It is hard to understand such detachment that tolerates a casualty list which in wartime would bring the nation low in grief.

One is inclined to believe that the weakness of the crusade for safety is not to be laid at the door of those who conduct the fight, but with those who drive and ride in the cars themselves.

Until there arises within all who ride a sensitiveness to safety and a real resolution to achieve it, the crusade will continue to falter, unnecessary death will remain the order of the day.

Safety is one thing that can't be delegated.

House who know a little bit about this loneliness and what it means, especially if the target happens to be a man who enjoys the companionship of his fellow men. It is all a part of our times. The non-conformist is not exactly the life of the party. To dissent, to fail to conform, to decide upon a policy of non-conformity is an unforgivable sin when it comes to American politics, and Sen. Case—along with one or two others sitting in the same Senate—men we could name—must either accept the cold shoulder in all good spirit or seek to re-establish themselves in the graces of their colleagues, who live by the rule of conformity and who never would consent to embark upon a course of non-conformity. The real struggle Sen. Case faces is ahead not behind. If he must walk alone, then this merely is to express the hope that a stout heart accompanies him.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

One of our favorite people in Nebraska is Arch Jarrell of the Grand Island Independent. Imagine, then, the pain and humiliation we experienced when we read these lines appearing on Mr. Jarrell's traditionally carefully edited page of the Independent, based upon a tale of Democratic sniping, which Mr. Jarrell intended primarily to put an end to all sniping.

The Democrats, Mr. Jarrell wrote, "have tipped their hand on their 1956 political strategy. It's 'part-time President.' Unable successfully to attack President Eisenhower in any other way, they are going to keep crocodile tears throughout the campaign because of the poor man's health. They are going to accuse the Republicans of forcing a sick man to be their candidate. They are going to use the 'part-time President' line ad infinitum and possibly ad nauseam. However, Franklin D. Roosevelt was a much sicker man in 1948 than Dwight Eisenhower is in 1956, and if that kept many people from voting for him, it wasn't evident in the election results." How right Mr. Jarrell is! It is a little bit embarrassing to be forced to remind the Grand Island editor that Mr. Roosevelt had been dead and buried almost three years when 1948 rolled around. Just to bring Mr. Jarrell up to date, 1948 was the year that the little man from Missouri made bums and jokers out of about 90 per cent of the newspaper editors of the United States by unexpectedly winning over former Gov. Dewey. See what we meant by that column Monday? This campaign is going to provide a test for American newspapermen in more ways than one.

Payments Will Rise

April 1 will be a welcome day for social security clients. It is the day the full benefits of the expanded act will go in force and means that a single man over 65 will start receiving $108.50 a month instead of $96.80. Retired couples will find it easier, too. Top payment to them will be $162.80. The increases will in some part be a make-difference for the increased cost of living.

DREW PEARSON

White House In On Gas Legislation

WASHINGTON — Among those who first urged Ike to run for President were Sid Richardson and Clint Murchison of Texas, two of the wealthiest oil gas men in the world. They went to Paris when he was in command of SHAPE, literally camped out there, begging him to run. Later they picked up some of the pre-prevention campaign expenses Ike incurred in getting ready to run.

They have not only been heavy contributors but good friends. This was why Eisenhower telephoned them in advance to tell them he was sorry but he had to veto the gas bill.

On top of Richardson and Murchison, scores of other oil gas men dumped hundreds of thousands of dollars, probably well over a million, into Ike's campaign. They carried Texas and Oklahoma, normally Democratic. Of course they "liked Ike." But they also understood from Jack Porter, Ike's No. 1 money-raiser in Texas, that he would undo Harry Truman's veto of the gas bill.

So shortly after the election, careful plans were made to put across a new gas bill.

Characteristically, Eisenhower appointed a cabinet committee to study the matter. Official chairman was Defense Mobilizer Arthur Flemming, but actually the committee was run by Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey. Other members were Attorney General Brownell, Secretary of State Dulles, Secretary of Defense Wilson, Secretary of the Interior McKay, Secretary of Commerce Weeks and Secretary of Labor Mitchell.

OILMEN AT WHITE HOUSE Under Humphrey's influence the committee called in the oil industry to write the recommendations.

ED FITZHUGH

This Filing System Became A Burden

The man's remark that I ought to go on a diet, although unfounded, shortsighted and a base libel, had nothing whatever to do with my decision to stop making notes about things. Mrs. F. caused that.

The reason for taking notes in the first place was that my memory is no longer than an embezzler's good-bye.

Advocates of pure speech have even contended that it should not be called my memory, but should be referred to as my lack-of-memory, in the interest of correct expression. Under the circumstances, it seemed a sensible thing to write notes to myself, reminding myself of appointments, hair cuts, shoe shines and necessary shopping.

For three days the system worked marvelously. Prodded into action by the notes in my pockets, I remembered to buy flea powder for the dogs, empty my pencil sharpener, keep three business appointments and meet a friend for lunch. What I forgot was to take the notes out of my pockets once they had served their purpose. It got so there were more and more little pieces of paper to examine each day.

About that time, too, Mrs. F. noticed the crackling sound when I walked. She was curious, and I told her about my plan. It was a mistake.

I did not immediately discover how great a mistake it was, though, because by now it was time to go through the notes, and a

These men were not paid by the government, but remained on the payrolls of their oil companies while drafting their recommendations for the White House. Needless to say, they came up with proposals benefiting the oil industry by many millions of dollars. Their recommendations were not only stronger than the gas bill voted by the Senate, but were accepted hook, line and sinker by Secretary Humphrey.

For example, Ike's veto message called for a rewrite of the gas bill, offering more protection for the consumers. Yet the final proposals submitted to the President by his cabinet committee offered less protection for the consumers than the Senate bill. The truth is that the cabinet committee made no attempt to get the consumer side of the story at all, despite repeated urging from Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill). It accepted the oil industry's proposals without qualification.

In the end, the cabinet committee recommended gas legislation much stronger than the Senate finally passed.

By that time Senator Case of South Dakota had revealed the $2,500 offered to influence his vote. There followed private indications which the Justice Department received from its U.S. attorney, Donald R. Ross, in Nebraska, that similar offers had been made in Nebraska and other states. Thus the White House knew well before the public how far-reaching were the gas lobby's operations.

It was also known that if a Senate committee got poking into oil-gas contributions, it might reach out in all directions—including the oil-gas men who contributed so heavily to Eisenhower.

Bridges Rigging Gas Lobby Quiz

WASHINGTON — The Senate investigation of lobbying may well be its victim, but Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire is undeniably giving the Capitol a glittering demonstration of the politician practicing his art.

Sensor Bridges is the ranking Republican of the equally divided committee. His aim is to see that the committee takes no turn and travels no road not subject to his veto.

To this end he has subjected the ranking Democrat, Albert Gore of Tennessee, to a raking mortar fire of conversation about precedents, rules and procedures. Gore is, as Bridges knows well, earnest and conscientious, eager to shine in his role as the scheduled chairman of the investigation.

So Gore has gone on the Bridges' paper chase, considering each argument, looking into each proposal. He is now reported to be just starting to come out of the ether and to be realizing that Bridges was only laying down points for bargaining purposes with the central aim of dominating the committee counsel, his choice and his powers.

A proper counsel, properly supported, free to pursue the interests and the seniors with their fear or favor, will insure a valuable investigation. At best he would be hard to find.

Lawyers with reputations and prestige have important connections by now; the oil business which kicked off the proposed probe is especially pervasive. A young man who has his future ahead of him is subject to the charge that he is unseasoned.

If it appears that there is going to be a good deal of controversy within the committee, lawyers will shy away. They may indeed already be noticing that the probable chairman is having his troubles.

Bridges is formidable in controversy for several reasons. He is well placed to deal with his fellow-senators as ranking Republican on Appropriations and Armed Services. He is a cheerful partisan and his opponents can depend upon it that when the chips are down he is not a gentleman.

He is not easily embarrassed. For example, he has leaped for dominance on the lobby committee although a major reason why he is a controversial figure here is his own past connections with the famous go-between, now in prison, Harry (The Dutchman) Grunwald.

Washington does a lot of pious deploping of the professional politician in action as in the present instance. But political parties—both of them—find their opponents extremely useful; it is a principal source of Vice President Nixon's strength in the GOP. (Copyright, 1956, by U.F. Syndicate, Inc.)

THE SERMON ON THE MOUNT

and thirst after justice, for they shall be filled," said Jesus. And He meant: You who really want to know God, and to serve Him, will surely find happiness, for God will show you His ways, and feed your soul.

"Blessed are the merciful," said Jesus, "for they shall obtain mercy."

"Blessed are the clean of heart—for they shall see God."

"Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called the children of God."

Jesus looked at the twelve men in a circle before Him, men who would soon be killed for serving Him. He was about to tell them a startling secret—they would find happiness in suffering, even in dying for His sake. "Blessed are they that suffer persecution for justice's sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven."

"Blessed are you when they shall revile you and . . . speak . . . evil against you, untruly, for My sake . . . Your reward is great in heaven."

The twelve men sat in silence, caught between the fog and the sunset. In their hearts His words repeated themselves—the eight rules of Christian life, so difficult, so simple.

Then Jesus spoke again. "You have heard," Jesus asked, "You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy? But I say to you: Love your enemies!"

As the setting sun painted the mountain rock, Jesus explained if you brag about your goodness to make others admire you, that will be your reward. But if you try to hide your goodness from everyone except God, your reward will come from Him.

Money? Riches?

Jesus, the King born in a stable cave, spoke through the twilight: "Lay not up for yourselves treasure on earth—where rust and moths can consume them, and thieves break through. Lay up treasures in heaven—where neither rust nor moth can consume, and where thieves do not break through."

"Where your treasure is, there is your heart also."

He raised His eyes over the darkening sea. "No man can serve two masters . . . You cannot serve God, and the world with its riches."

"Therefore I say to you, do not think it is important to worry about how you shall find food to eat . . . or fine clothes to wear . . . Behold the birds of the air. They do not sow, nor reap, . . . Your heavenly Father feeds them. Are not you of more value than they?"

Jesus touched a flower growing in the ledge. "Consider the lilies of the field . . . They do not work or spin. But not even Solomon in all his glory, was dressed as one of these. If God clothes the grass of the field in such glory, how much more richly will He care for you?

"Seek first the kingdom of God, and His justice—and all these things shall be given to you, too."

The last glow of sunset crowned His hair as He spoke the most wonderful promise of all time.

"Ask—and it shall be given to you."

"Seek, and you shall find."

"Knock, and it shall be opened to you. For every one that asks, receives. And he that seeks, finds. And to him that knocks, it shall be opened . . ."

These things and more Jesus explained to the Twelve on the mountainside. A crescent moon rose as He told them that only by prayer could a man find strength to live.

And how should a Christian pray?

"Our Father, Who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil . . ."

The stars shone bright overhead as the disciples learned for the first time the prayer we call the Lord's Prayer.

And that was the Sermon on the Mount.

Plea For Action

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: According to news reports, we now have a one-man government in Lincoln, and that person is Mayor Jeary. It took a fire on P Street to get someone to take action. Numerous reports have been made to those in charge of supervision, but they have always been promptly brushed off and nothing done about them.

Perhaps we should have officials who will listen to the public complaints.

BEN S. KECK

Prayer For The President

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: On February 29, I listened to the news conference of President Eisenhower and the informal address in the evening, and I thought of a special prayer for our President which appeared in a church bulletin at the time of his heart attack last September. The prayer appeared in the September, 1955, issue from Holy Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, with a motto saying: "A Church With A Tried Heritage And A Strong Purpose." The following prayer was presented by the Rev. Paul H. Waldschmidt, pastor of that church in Englewood, California, on September 25:

"O Blessed and Eternal Saviour, who art the great Physician of souls, look down in pity upon Thy servant, our President, in his sickness. Bless, we pray Thee, the attendance of physicians, who are Thy servants, to the restoration of our President's health. And if their judgment and medicines are inadequate, we pray that it be Thy Holy Will to restore him in Thy good judgment to the labors which he has faithfully executed for his God and for his country."

"Grant him such health of body as Thou knowest to be needful for him, that both in body and soul he may again take the helm to fulfill the destiny for which Thou hast ordained him."

"We pray that it be Thy Will to call again to the labors of life, as our President, so that together with him we may serve Thee and our country with a thankful and joyful heart. In Jesus' Name, Amen."

Since Mr. Eisenhower has again made himself available for the presidency, we know Rev. Mr. Waldschmidt will continue his prayers that he may continue in good health during his regime as President, should he be re-elected. Let us as true American citizens also offer our prayers for the welfare of President Eisenhower, that he may be able to bring us out of the chaotic world conditions in which we now live, bringing about a lasting peace on earth and good will to humanity.

NO "LL.GANS!"

As we were on the starting tee, The Reverend Bishop said to me: "The mulligan?" and I replied: "Never until the day I've died."

A mulligan in golf is this: A drive allowed for one you miss; A bit of cheating for the score; By taking five and claiming four.

"A mulligan! To one and all I say: 'Get up and hit the ball. No Bishop of a Holy See Can get a mulligan from me."

"If you should wear a cardinal's hat You'd get no mulligan for that. Until the final put is made Play golf the way it should be played."

Renouncing Votes?

Madison, N.H.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The impasse between the Arab states and Israel brings out to the full the anomalous character of the relation between this country and the state of Israel. We have, with all good will, been thrown into a relation of sponsorship with Israel with no capacity for controlling Israel's foreign policies. If Israel, instead of making friends, makes enemies, it becomes wholly apart from our intention.

I do not imply that Israel has gone out to make enemies—simply that it has not sufficiently labored to avoid making them. The consequences of this were predicted long ago by Israel's wisest and most devoted friends—such men as Albert Einstein and Judah Magnes. These counsels went by default, as did those of the noble and devoted builder of the Hebrew University on Mount Scopus. It is only today that the materially successful "realistic" policies that replaced them begin to show their full fruit.

Looked at objectively, the situation is clearly preposterous. It encourages the Israelis, in regard to boundary lines which, in view of the common good and good will, need to be considered and reconsidered—boundaries natural or arbitrary, agreed on or not agreed on, marked or unmarked—to take an indiscriminate and intransigent position, and in the same breath to appeal as by unwritten right to Uncle Sam for military means to support this inflexibility however contrary to the world interest in peace. What Israel today needs arms for is not to protect her existence: it is to protect her present government from the necessity of reason and decency in relation to its neighbors. Let us see things as they are.

What these United States are called on to endorse, with increasing assurance on the part of Israeli emissaries, is the Israeli fait accompli. The full extent for a state full of ambition can carry the supposed fait accompli well beyond the past tense. We are finding ourselves insensitively drawn to be the material guarantors of the Zionist future. Do we like the role? Is there any honesty in it. I say no.

We are again at a time when presidential issues are in the air, and when, as our political life has been running, it is prudent for any candidate or potential candidate to "speak comfortably." What would happen if some presidential possibility were to speak uncomformably, in the interest of the independence of the American voter? I am looking for the man who will state this situation clearly to the American people.

Youth Found Dead Of Freak Injuries

Crash Brings Auto Fatality Mark To 54

ENDERS, Neb. (P) — Jerry L. Haarberg, 17, farm youth near Imperial, was found dead beneath his overturned auto, a victim of freak injuries suffered in an accident.

Chase County Sheriff Clifton Morrison said the youth apparently choked to death when his neck was pinned in the door of his overturned auto along a rural road five miles southeast of here.

The sheriff said the boy suffered no other apparent serious injuries.

Arnold Bartles, a farmer, found the boy. The sheriff said the car had traveled out of control about 1,000 feet before it overturned into a field.

The youth was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Haarberg.

The death raised to the number of Nebraska traffic fatalities this year, the same total as in 1955 at this time.

27 Pct. Eligible Nebraskans Given Second Polio Shot

OMAHA (P) — About 27 per cent of the eligible persons in Nebraska have received two shots of anti-polio vaccine, and a member of the State Polio Advisory Committee says it is felt a "large share" of the rest will be able to get the vaccine this year.

Dr. Carl J. Potthoff of Omaha, committee member, said that manufacturers have improved their production methods and the output of vaccine is increasing.

Children 1 through 10 and pregnant women are eligible.

The advisory committee last week accepted the recommendation of the Nebraska Medical Assn. House of Delegates on future distribution of the vaccine.

Ninety per cent will be administered through commercial channels by private physicians. The other 10 per cent will be handled by the Health Department for those unable to pay.

Spire Mentioned As Candidate For U.S. District Attorney Post

OMAHA (P) — William C. Spire, deputy U.S. district attorney in Omaha, was reported to be a strong candidate for the vacant U.S. attorney's post.

The Omaha World-Herald, quoting unnamed Republican sources, said state Republican Chairman William Speer of Fremont

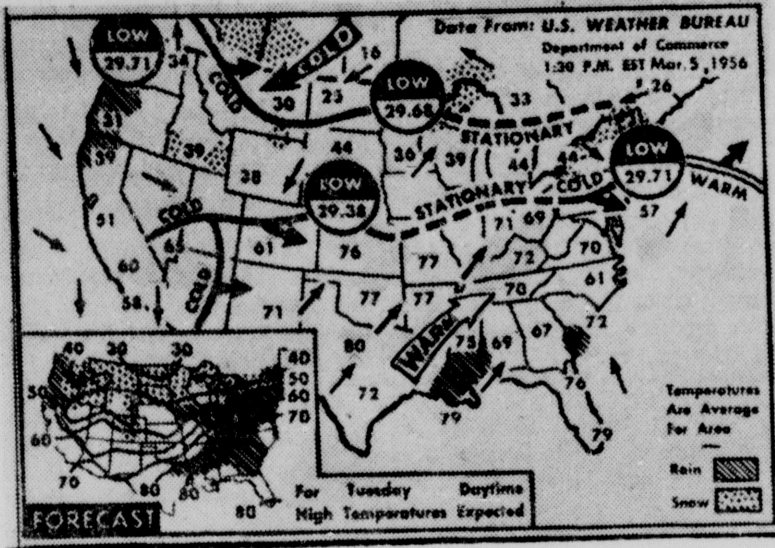

Endorse Nuss For Judgeship

HASTINGS, Neb. (P) — District Judge Edmund (Cy) Nuss, 56, of Hastings has the "unqualified endorsement" of the 10th Judicial District Bar Assn. for appointment as a U.S. District Judge.

The group passed a resolution in support of Judge Nuss at its meeting here and sent copies to Sens. Hruska and Curtis.

The senators will make a recommendation of President Eisenhower, who will nominate a successor to Federal District Judge James A. Donohoe of Omaha, who died recently.

Ben Bracken, Minden, was elected president of the district group. A. W. Storms, Holdrege, was named vice president and Fred Martin, Minden, secretary-treasurer.

'Pre-Wetting' For Excavation' Company Formed At Holdrege

HOLDREGE, Neb. (P) — A corporation has been formed here to do pre-wetting of excavation jobs such as earthen dam constructions. It has been awarded a contract in connection with Oahe Dam under construction on the Missouri River near Pierre, S.D.

The firm is Industrial Pipelines, Inc. It also will rent and sell pipe to be used for collector lines in gas and oil fields.

Incorporators of the $100,000 firm are John B. Vaughn and Kenneth J. Surghoe of Holdrege and H. E. Stearns of Grand Island.

The "pre-wetting for excavation" operation is a fairly new type of operation. Since about 1951 agencies such as the Bureau of Reclamation and the Army Engineers have incorporated pre-wetting as a specification in some of the large excavation jobs.

The company sets up sprinkler systems on borrow pit areas prior to excavation. The area is soaked to a specified depth until the dirt is in the best condition to compact to a required density.

The pre-wetting or "curing" of the soil usually is started about 60 days before excavating begins. The new corporation last week dropped previous objections to Spire. Spear has indicated his own interest in the vacant federal district judgeship.

Republican sources here were quoted as saying Spear and Spire are now the names being mentioned most often in connection with the two jobs.

So far as his reported opposition to Spire is concerned, Spear said Monday: "I am neither opposed nor in favor of any candidate. I don't think it's the state chairman's job to decide. It's a matter for the Department of Justice and the senators. I don't know whether they would clear it with me or not."

The job opened when Donald R. Ross resigned as an outgrowth of the Senate campaign contribution probe.

The judgeship vacancy occurred when Judge James A. Donohoe died February 26.

Man Killing His Wife Dies From Gunshot Wound

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (P) — Fred Temple of Scottsbluff died of a self-inflicted bullet wound in the head, shortly after his wife was shot to death last Friday.

Mrs. Mollie Temple, 49, had filed suit for divorce.

Mrs. Temple's father, Conrad Hoff Sr., 80, told police Temple shot his wife, wounded Hoff and turned the .38 caliber pistol on himself.

Hoff is reported in fair condition.

Services Held For Rev. Henry Case

Tests Of Ashland Wells, Pits Run To Boost Lincoln's Water Supply

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

A series of tests aimed at an increased water supply for the city from the well fields at Ashland has been authorized by the City Council.

The Layne-Western Co. of Omaha will conduct 15 tests for quality and depth of water in an area along one and one-half miles of the west side of the Platte River just north of the National Guard camp.

The tests will lead to installation of 10 additional wells, giving the city a total of 34 wells with a capacity of 60 million gallons of water per day.

Other tests will call for an estimated $9,600 expenditure to determine the feasibility of pumping from two large sand pits in the same area north of the Guard camp.

Supply And Quality

Twenty million gallons of water per day will be pumped from the pits to determine the depletion rate of the supply and quality of the water. Temperature tests will also be made, because the surface water in the pits would be warmer than the water pumped from deep wells.

Should pumping from the pits be feasible, it would eliminate the need for more deep wells.

LHS Parents Series Probes Adolescence

The problems and their possible solutions for teenage children in the adolescent stage were discussed Monday evening at the first meeting of four in a film-discussion series at Lincoln High School.

Sponsored by the LHS parent's group, the series each Monday for four weeks will watch a film on adolescent problems then hold a discussion afterwards.

Stanley Good, director of the Child Guidance Center, was discussion leader at the first session. After meeting in small groups of four to five parents to formulate questions, the entire group then presented these questions for comment.

Among the prominent problems discussed at the meeting were the setting of hours when the teenagers should return home; how to handle the child "who knows it all"; the outside influences that affect behavior; rudeness to adults and how to get retiring individuals to participate in more activities.

The group saw the film "Families First."

Dr. Janet Palmer, school psychiatrist, will lead the discussion next Monday at the second meeting in the series. The film "Pre-face to Life" will be shown.

or the pits would have to be piped about the same distance to the treatment plant at Ashland.

The pits run up to a depth of 45 feet. Gravel is currently being taken from the lakes.

Summer, 1957

The well work and other improvements, all designed to give the city a total supply of 70 million gallons per day, will be completed in time for use during the summer of 1957, according to Public Works Director D. L. Erickson.

The present capacity is 46 million gallons per day, including 10 million gallons per day from deep wells in Lincoln. The well field at Ashland can now produce about 46 million gallons per day but the treatment plant has a capacity of only 36 million gallons per day.

Fulton & Cramer, consulting engineers, are expected to submit plans to the city shortly on improvements for the treatment plant. The well field engineering work is being done by Hoskins & Associates.

This summer, Lincoln will have to get by with its present 36 million gallons per day from Ashland, another 10 million gallons daily from local wells and a reservoir capacity of 27 million gallons.

Union College Senior Wins Berth To Contest

John Westerberg, senior pre-medical student from Sioux City, Ia., will represent Union College in a national temperance oratorical contest at Kansas City March 24. He will compete with orators from nine other Seventh-day Adventist colleges in North America.

Also attending Kansas City session will be Loren Dickinson, leader of the Union College chapter of the American Temperance Society, and J. J. Williamson, faculty sponsor of the organization.

Westerberg won the berth in the finals by defeating four other men in a local contest in the Union College auditorium.

Judges were Harlan Adams, instructor in speech correction at the University of Nebraska, Colonel E. C. Hardin of the Lincoln Air Force Base, Russell R. Strom, Lincoln attorney, W. A. Howe, educational superintendent of the Central Union of Seventh-day Adventists, and M. Donovan Oswald, temperance secretary of the Nebraska Conference of Seventh-day Adventists.

NU Biochemist Gets Extra $8,000 For Starch Study

The Corn Industries Research Foundation of New York has granted through the University of Nebraska Foundation an additional $8,000 to finance a continuation of the study of starch by R. M. Sandstedt, University biochemist.

In the past six years, the Research Foundation has given the University a total of $26,000 for Sandstedt's research.

This coming year, Sandstedt plans to study the synthetic growth of starch granules. Since 1950, his research has involved photomicrographic studies of starch and enzyme action on raw starch granules.

Sandstedt is a member of the department of biochemistry and nutrition at the College of Agriculture.

Firemen Extinguish Blaze In Apartment

City And County Agree On Authority Articles

Agreement has apparently been reached between city and county officials on articles of incorporation for creation of a City-County Building Authority.

The City Council has approved articles which differ only slightly from those previously passed by the county Board of Commissioners.

In the city version, the Authority would be dissolved June 1, 1957 unless voters have approved a bond issue for construction of the proposed new joint building. In the county version, the Authority would be dissolved if voters turned down a bond issue or if an issue was not placed on the ballot within one year.

Mayor Clark Jeary informed the Council that, according to Commissioner Chairman Russell

Brehm, a majority of the county Board would agree to the articles passed by the Council.

City and county officials have also been conferring in regard to the next step involved — the appointment of membership to the Authority. The city and county each must appoint two members with a fifth member to be agreed upon by both parties.

Dr. Crow Will Speak At NU Genetics Meet

Dr. James F. Crow, prominent geneticist at the University of Wisconsin, will be the guest lecturer at the genetics institute to be held at the University of Nebraska March 13-15.

Dr. Crow's lectures will be concerned with the genetics of insecticide resistance, inbreeding and random genetic drift. The lectures are sponsored by the University Genetics Institute and the University Research Council.

Adlai Says Farm Situation Is Dangerously Like That Of 1929

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Adlai Stevenson declared Monday night that the farm situation today "is dangerously like the one that started us all down the rocky Republican road to depression in 1929."

"Unless we straighten out the situation of falling farm incomes and restore prosperity to the farmers, all of us will suffer," Stevenson said in a speech at Alexandria as he continued his campaign for Minnesota support in his drive for the Democratic nomination for president.

Stevenson also said the nation needs an administration that understands the world struggle in order to win the third of the world not committed to communism.

He said we must have in Washington an administration which "really understands the great and terrible forces now struggling in the world."

"The world is not divided into two parts, but three," he continued.

"There is the Communist third, there is the third united with us against the Communist tyranny. And there is the uncommitted third."

"We are not going to win the uncommitted third by moralistic preaching or by sternly telling them that if they are not for us they are therefore against us. We shall win them in proportion as they come to trust us and what we stand for."

"We must prove to them that our search for peace is more real than that of the Communists, our concern for the welfare and future development of new nations is more genuine than that of the Russian traveling salesman. Then and then only the scales will decisively tip in our favor as mankind's uncommitted third chooses its side."

Depends On Farms

"Today more than ever your prosperity here in the town of Alexandria and in other Alexandrias throughout the country depends on the well being of the surrounding farms."

"Consumers, workers, housewives, small merchants, everybody now realizes that the situation on the farms today is dangerously like the one that started us all down the rocky Republican road to depression in 1929."

"Small business today is being squeezed out as well as killed off," he continued.

"Mergers are growing steadily and insistently, creating bigger and bigger competitors. The pace at which these giants are being formed is even attracting Republican attention."

As Stevenson whisked through heavily Democratic western Minnesota seeking farmer support, Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) headed for the state by air, having cut short a New Hampshire visit. At some points in the drive for primary votes, their paths cross.

Rev. Dr. Finch, Long A State Minister, Dies

Dr. Frank I. Finch, 69, of 315 So. 29th, a Nebraska minister for many years before his retirement in 1953, died Monday.

Born at Anniston Ala., Dr. Finch was graduated from the University of Chattanooga, Tenn., and took his theological training at the Garrett Institute at Evanston, Ill.

His first pastorate was of two churches in St. Louis, Mo. In 1918, he served a pastorate at Raymond, Neb., and from 1920 to 1924 was pastor of Warren Methodist Church in Lincoln.

He was then named director of Christian education at First Methodist Church in Lincoln. Following that he went to St. Paul's Methodist Church at Omaha, and for the next 23 years served as executive secretary of the Board of Christian Education of the Methodist Church.

Dr. Finch was married in 1911 to Lexie Mosley.

The Rev. Dr. Finch was given an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree by Nebraska Wesleyan University in 1942.

Surviving are his wife; two sons, Frank I. Jr. of Denver and Harold M. of Austin, Minn.; his mother, Mrs. Loma Finch; two sisters, Mrs. Florence Littleton and Mrs. Ruth Cole; and a brother, Frederick J., all of Los Angeles, Calif.; and five grandchildren.

Cornerstone Laid At Pius X High

Bishop Louis B. Kucera laid the cornerstone for the new Pius X Catholic High School, 58th and A.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas Kealey said if favorable weather conditions continue, the $500,000 building should be completed in the fall of this year.

Following the blessing of the cornerstone by Bishop Kucera, Harvey Lease and Joe Daneck assisted in the laying of the stone.

About 100 persons attended the informal ceremony.

Mrs. Zimmer, 64, Of New York, Dies

Funeral services for Mrs. Mina Zimmer, 64, of Binghamton, N.Y., who died in Lincoln Monday, will be at 2 p.m. Thursday at the DeMunn Funeral Home at Binghamton.

Mrs. Zimmer was born in New Milford, Pa., and had lived in Lincoln for the past six months.

Surviving is a son, Howard of Lincoln.

You: I've got less money in the till than I ought to have. Any suggestions?

We: Draw up a chair. Let's assume your bills are paid. And you have provided for family emergencies. Now you're ready for an interesting journey.

You: Where to?

We: To where you want to get: Ahead. Begin by considering investing in good common stock. The idea is not to try to make a killing—but to get a good return on your money.

You: Stocks? You've got the wrong man, pal. I'm not rich.

We: Neither are most stockholders. Three out of four people who own stock have incomes under $10,000 a year. Many under $5,000. They own their share of American business. Because when you own stock you're part owner of the company and you share in its profits by way of dividends. If it grows your investment can grow too.

You: Now you're getting somewhere. But how do I make sure the company will pay those dividends?

We: You can't. Sometimes a company doesn't make a profit from which to pay a dividend. Fact is, though, around 500 stocks on the New York Stock Exchange have paid dividends every year for 20 to more than 100 years.

You: So I ought to buy stock only with my eyes wide open?

We: Now you're getting somewhere. Bear in mind that a stock can go down as well as up. Start by getting facts and sensible advice. You'll find both if you drop in on a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. They'll welcome your visit and help you get information about both stocks and bonds.

You: Haven't you got anything for me to read?

We: We sure have. An interesting little booklet called "Investment Facts about Common Stocks and Cash Dividends." Gives dividend records of several hundred companies, tells you how to open an account, and describes the wonderfully convenient Monthly Investment Plan, which enables you to buy stock in some of America's greatest companies for as little as $40 every three months.

You: Where can I get that booklet?

We: Easy. Drop in on, or telephone, or mail a card to any Member Firm. Or send the coupon direct to Dept. 6E, New York Stock Exchange, Box 252, New York 5, N. Y.

U.S. High Court Rules Segregation Ban Includes Tax-Supported Colleges

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court Monday extended to tax-supported colleges and universities its ban on racial segregation in public schools. It did so without a spoken word and in a manner usually reserved for routine cases.

The court's brief order said, in effect, the historic doctrine of "separate but equal" also is dead in the field of higher education supported by taxpayers.

It was included in a three-page list of orders, mostly in rather ordinary cases, which was made public by the court's clerk.

As in its May 17, 1954, decision striking down segregation of Negro pupils in public schools, the court's action Monday was unanimous.

Other unanimous decisions have outlawed segregation in public parks, playgrounds and golf courses.

Affirmed in 13 words was a decision by a special three-judge Federal Court in Greensboro, N.C., which ordered three Negroes admitted to the University of North Carolina.

The lower court rejected as "without merit" the contention of university officials that the 1954 decision did not apply in colleges and universities.

Reasoning Applicable

The three-judge court said the Supreme Court's 1954 decision was limited to the facts before it, "but the reasoning on which the decision was based is as applicable to schools of higher education as to schools on the lower level."

University officials, in appealing from the ruling, asked the Supreme Court to reverse itself and wipe out its original segregation ruling "because it is not within the power and authority of this court to amend the Constitution; that power is given only to the people and their elected representatives."

Counsel for the three Negroes involved in the litigation asked the decision of the special court at once without the customary hearing of arguments. This the court did, saying: "The motion to affirm is granted and the judgment is affirmed."

50 Years Old

The "separate but equal" doctrine was laid down by the Supreme Court more than half a century ago and, in general, was the law governing segregation until the 1954 public schools ruling which overturned it.

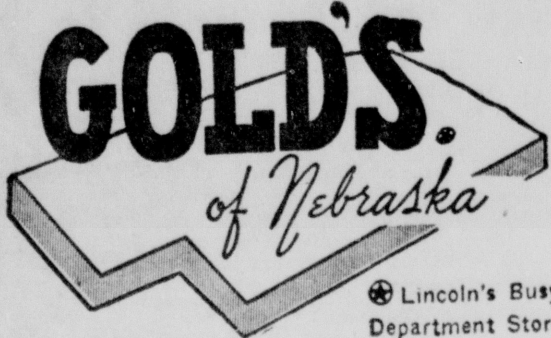

In another action Monday, the court declined to review a ruling which 16 Negroes said might wipe out gains made by their race in recent court decisions.

The ruling, by the North Carolina Supreme Court, was that use by Negroes of a Charlotte, N. C., park would compel immediate return of part of the park land to a private donor.

In giving the land for inclusion in the park, the donor specified it was for use of white persons only.

POSTCARD

When the Ford stock went on the market, I managed to purchase three shares. You had to beg to get them. I never understood why, though I read all the financial pages for a clue.

Since everybody else was begging, I begged and bought. It gave me something to worry about.

So the other day I dusted over to the Ford dealer to see how Fords are selling these days.

"A mere nothing when you consider the cozy warmth seeping into your car. Say $71.43. Naturally, you want back-up lights."

"To tell you the truth, I just dropped in to check the action—" "I am glad you brought that up," said the salesman. "The Ford action is designed this year for both comfort and safety. Just slip into this convertible for size. Yes, slide the seat to your own convenience. It looks," said the salesman, "as though it were tailored for you. You have the natural build for it. And I don't mind telling you we get some types that are hard to fit."

"You couldn't do better," said the salesman. "What model did you have in mind?"

"Something modest," I said. "Just to get wheels under me."

"All our models are modest. Yet with a certain verve. You wish the Fordomatic, of course, and the undercoat."

"Does it cost any more?"

The Fordomatic will run you $178.20 and the undercoating will cost $30. However, I strongly advise it for the added comfort and protection. We can also supply Power steering, power windows, Power brakes and power seats. Would you like a Magic Air Heater?"

"Is it extra?"

Well things have changed since I was the owner of a whole series of Fords. And I wonder what Henry would say.

I owned a series of model T Fords in my salad days. They were not new. The most expensive one cost me $75, and it took me 18 months to pay it off. The least costly was a $35 nudge.

They all ran well, though unpredictably. I knew their insides like a surgeon with a steady patient. The $35 job required a constant flipping of the coils. An operation that usually gave you a tingling shock up the arm.

The $75 luxury buy had a stiff crank and a terrible kick. You retarded the spark lever, gave it a spin and jumped out of the way.

Now I look under the hood of this gleaming, undercoated, overcoated, automatic mass of grill. I wouldn't know where to begin taking it apart. Me, who once repaired a burned-out front bearing with a thick strip of bacon rind.

I have confidence in my stock, however. For I see the basic principle has not changed. To wit: The original equipment is only a base for the extras.

So it is today, and so it was in my youth.

My model Ts were simply the frames on which we hung the additional material. The spotlight the nicked extension they clamped on the gas lever. The accelerator pedal. The floor mats. The rubber nonskid covers for the three bare forward, reverse and brake pedals.

My after-school earnings went into anti-chattering devices. I saved for a Ruxtel axle. I bought special fluids which aided the splash oil system. Our bearings were oiled by free-flowing oil which splashed into the moving parts.

There were no white sidewall tires (another extra these days). But I had a tire-patch kit with sticky cement and a grater top on the can. To grate and clean the punctured tube.

All these were extra in those days. Even as now. The only difference I can see is that today's extras are beyond the reach of schoolboys. And business being as brisk as it is there days, gentlemen, I await my dividends.

NU DEBATERS SMASH NORTHWEST TOURNAMENT RECORDS

ST. PAUL, Minn. — The record book took a beating from the University of Nebraska's four debate teams here at the Northwest Debate Tournament, in which 82 teams competed.

The University's freshman team, composed of Nancy Copeland of North Platte and Sara Jones of Lincoln, won the women's division. This is the first time in the tournament's history that a freshman team has won the division and the first time that the winning team received all five of the judges' votes.

All four of the University's teams survived the preliminary rounds, giving the University of Nebraska the honor of being the first school to have that many teams compete in the quarter-final rounds.

Two of the Nebraska teams were eliminated in the semifinals tying for third place in the men's division. The teams were composed of Richard Andrews of Kansas City and Jerry Igou of Lincoln, and Jere McGaffey of Nebraska City and Allen Overcash of Lincoln.

The fourth University team, Sharon Mangold of Bennington and Sandra Reimers of Lincoln, were eliminated in the quarterfinals.

For the entire tournament, the 30 of 40 debates. Debate coach University of Nebraska teams won is Don Olson

Auxiliary Officers

From the left are Mrs. E. S. Mathers, president and outgoing vice president; Mrs. Ray Knapp, vice president; and Mrs. Duane M. Hunt, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Ray Steinacher, outgoing president, conducted the short business meeting which was held following a dinner at the University Club. Special guests of the auxiliary at the dinner were the officers of the Nebraska Dental Auxiliary who were in Lincoln on Monday for a state board meeting.

The after-dinner hours were devoted to cards, and hostess chairman for the evening was Mrs. Jack Knodle.

Theme With Variations

THE NEWS this morning might be called a theme on guests and homecomers — with variations — The variations involve members of the school set who will be home for the Easter holiday and whose category puzzles us somewhat — Are they guests — or homecomers? May be both.

Miss Nancy Aitken, we are told, will be arriving home from

Bride-Elect Is Honored

In prenuptial courtesy to Miss Maxine Adams, whose marriage to Richard Smith will be solemnized on April 7, Mrs. James Buchanan and Mrs. William Kriskey entertained at a miscellaneous shower on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Kriskey. Twenty guests were invited for the shower and an informal evening.

PEO Names Officers

The members of Chapter DM, PEO, met Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. W. Harvey and elected Mrs. Paul Ludwick president of the chapter for the coming year.

Other new officers are Mrs. W. H. DeFrene, vice president; Mrs. Phil Runion recording secretary; Mrs. Susan Holland, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. James R. Tisdale, treasurer. Miss Leona McCallum, chaplain, and Mrs. Rollin Mead, guard, were re-elected.

Mrs. Ludwick was named delegate to the state convention with Mrs. DeFrene as alternate.

Mrs. H. A. Dillman was elected president of Chapter K of PEO at the group's luncheon and meeting last Saturday afternoon held at the YWCA.

Wellesley College, on Sunday, evening, March 25, to spend the spring recess with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William I. Aitken.

AND just a few days later, Wednesday, March 28, Miss Kitty Lilly will be home from Manhattanville College in Purchase, N. Y., to spend the Easter season with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lilly.

THERE'S no guest angle to the arrival of Lt. Pat Healey, however. In fact the infantry officer no longer is a lieutenant—he's just plain Mr. Healey from now on. Mr. Healey, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Healey, returned to Lincoln from Ft. Benning, Ga., last week-end, and in the autumn will resume his studies in the University of Nebraska College of Law where he will be a senior.

ALMOST any moment after Friday, Lt. Jerry Jouvenat is apt to be walking in the front door at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Jouvenat. Lt. Jouvenat has just completed a tour of duty in Japan where he has been stationed in Nagoya.

ALSO expected home next week-end are Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Wilson who will be returning from Pasadena, Calif. Mrs. Wilson, due to an emergency appendectomy and a long convalescent period, has been in Pasadena for several weeks. Mr. Wilson joined her there nearly three weeks ago.

WELL — we hear that Mrs. Sally Shannon and her daughter, Susie, who were supposed to have arrived from Reno, Nev., a week ago last Saturday — but didn't — put in an appearance the past week-end and will spend several days in Lincoln.

AND on the guest list for the approaching week-end will be Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Ludwick who are to be the house guests of Dr. Ludwick's mother, Mrs. Paul Ludwick. Dr. Ludwick will attend the 100th anniversary banquet of Sigma Alpha Epsilon on Friday evening.

Board Plans State Convention

Mrs. S. H. Jelinek of Brainard presided at the meeting Monday afternoon of the executive board of the Nebraska State Dental Society Auxiliary which was held at the University Club in Lincoln.

The officers discussed detailed plans for the state auxiliary's annual spring convention, which will be held in Omaha from April 30 to May 3, in conjunction with the state Dental Society convention. Following the meeting, the officers were guests of the Lincoln Dental Auxiliary at dinner at the University Club.

Capek, Lincoln, corresponding secretary; Mrs. H. E. Hooker, Ainsworth, president elect; Mrs. Jelinek, Brainard, president; Mrs. Porter F. Dodson, Beatrice, treasurer; Mrs. L. D. Arnot, Lincoln, historian; and Mrs. F. A. Breeze, Omaha, recording secretary.

Honored At Panhellenic Tea

The alumnae advisory committee of the University of Nebraska Panhellenic Association were honored guests Monday afternoon at a tea for which the active Panhellenic members were hostesses at Rosa Bouton Hall between the hours of 4:30 o'clock and 5:30 o'clock.

Especially honored was Miss Helen Snyder, assistant to the dean of student affairs.

derson, president of the active Panhellenic Association. Standing (from the left) are Miss Patricia Stafford of Lincoln, Panhellenic vice president; Miss Janet Lovseth of St. Peter, Minn., secretary; Mrs. George Eager and Mrs. Charles Weaver of Lincoln, members of the alumnae advisory committee.

Club Elects

Following the Founders Day luncheon of Phi Mu sorority on Saturday at the University Club, members of the alumnae club elected new officers.

President for the coming year will be Mrs. Kenneth Winkler and other officers are Mrs. Ford Eckles, vice president; Mrs. Paul Brettman, secretary; and Mrs. Roger Rhodes, treasurer. Mrs. Don K. Jones was named alumnae delegate to the national convention of the sorority at Edgewater Park, Miss., in June, and alternate is Mrs. W. L. Lozier.

Named members of the corporation board were Mrs. D. A. Peterson and Mrs. John Coover.

Plan Luncheon

The members of the Tuesday Travel Club will meet for a 1 o'clock luncheon on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Fred M. Deweese, 1751 So. 26th St. Mrs. Deweese also will present the program.

End clogged-up nose sleep better tonight

Thousands find this method keeps nose clear all night long

Dry or dusty air, "smog," a head cold, overheated room, allergy . . . all can cause night nose clogging, spoiling your sleep and forcing you into harmful mouth breathing*

Thousands have found that Mentholatum quickly ends this annoying problem. Just apply Mentholatum in each nostril at bedtime. Instantly your nose feels clearer and, during the night, Mentholatum's soothing action relieves that dry, stuffy feeling. Congestion eases and you breathe normally through your nose

*Why Mouth Breathing is Harmful
When a clogged nose forces you to breathe through your mouth, you send chilled dry air, laden with dust and germs, directly into your lungs. This and snoring, of course, go hand in hand. Mentholatum in the nose at night ends harmful mouth breathing

Baltimore Transit Co. Seized To End Strike

... Walkout In 36th Day

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gov. Theodore McKeldin, playing his last card in an attempt to get streetcars and buses running here after 36 days of idleness, Monday seized the Baltimore Transit Co.

Moments later an official of the AFL-CIO union representing the company's 2,000 striking employees said service should be resumed within 48 hours.

McKeldin had announced he would take over the company under a three-day-old Maryland law unless its contract dispute with the Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees were settled.

He had described the strike, which deprived the metropolitan Baltimore area and its 1,200,000 residents of their chief means of public transportation, "intolerable."

Wage Block

Operators and maintenance men walked off the job Jan. 29, one day after their four-year-old contract with the BTC expired. Negotiations dating back to November had failed to produce a new agreement, and bargaining representatives said they were hung up on virtually every point in the contract, especially the wage scale.

The union had asked for a 25-cent hourly increase, then lowered this to 10 cents now and 10 cents more next July. The company's top offer was 18 cents spread over three years, but this offer was withdrawn after the union failed to accept it by the Feb. 26 deadline by the BTC.

Under the seizure law enacted by the Legislature last Thursday—the last day of its 1956 session—and signed by McKeldin on Friday, the state takes over operation of the company's facilities.

McKeldin named Joseph Allen, chairman of the State Tax commission, as the "emergency utility administrator" to operate the BTC.

Employees who refuse to work for the state can be fired. Otherwise, they return under provisions of the old contract, which gave them an average hourly wage of $1.90.

Frank P. Baummer, president of the union local, said he will urge workers at a meeting Tuesday to return to their jobs. Baummer said about two days will be necessary to get the buses and streetcars back in operating shape.

Council Cuts Cost Of Irvingdale Pool

The City Council has accepted a $67,450 bid by Dobson Bros. Construction Co. for construction of a new swimming pool in Irvingdale Park.

The Council accepted a $1,750 deductive alternate which eliminates the wading pool and substitutes the use of cloth filters. This will enable the Council to pay all engineering costs and still remain below the $70,000 appropriated for the pool.

The be located in the southeast part of the park, the pool is to be completed by June 15.

Legislative Dist. 35 First With 4 Filings

The 35th Nebraska Legislative District, embracing Custer, Loup and Garfield Counties, Monday became the first to draw as many as four candidates for nomination to the Legislature at this year's primary election.

Robert Romans of Arnold, Neb., filed with the secretary of state Monday. Filing previously were Roy E. Blixt, Arnold; Charles Elithope, Broken Bow, and Sen. K. W. Peterson, Sargent, the incumbent.

Henderson Fertilizer Firm Incorporates

The A. C. Fertilizer Co., Henderson, Neb., filed articles of incorporation Monday with the secretary of state.

Incorporators are Eugene V. Siebert, Aurora, and Melvin H. Koreker and Ralsh H. Koreker, both of Henderson. Authorized capitalization is $25,000.

Other new corporations: Nelson Flying Club, Nelson, Neb., non-profit.

First Church of Christ, Scientist, of North Platte (non-profit).

Standardized Mileage Fees Recommended

County witnesses before Legislative Council Committee sessions in Lincoln Monday appeared unanimously in favor of standard mileage fees for county employees.

Some discrepancy in fees—which range from 6 to 10 cents a mile—caused the discussion before the committee, now studying county government.

Higher rates paid sheriffs for mileage while serving summonses was the object of most discussion.

Members of the Council committee indicated favor of a law standardizing mileage rates and requiring itemized statements for each trip made.

Lobby Discussed

State lobbying was discussed by the session, leading Sen. John Aufenkamp to give a detailed explanation of lobby activities.

He said lobbyists perform a useful function by providing members with information on bills. When truly controversial legislation is involved, said Aufenkamp, lobbyists are active on both sides of the issue.

"There has been a lot of criticism of lobbyists in the newspapers," Aufenkamp said. "But, when legislation comes up affecting the newspapers, they are right there with their representatives. And we're glad to hear them—to hear their side of the story."

Sen. Don Thompson said Nebraska was "fortunate in that the state has a 'good type' lobbyists for the most part." He said lobbying laws would not change the operation of lobbyists.

Up To Votes

The voters in each district, said Thompson, must elect representatives who "can't be unduly influenced."

C. H. Dahl of Fremont, Dodge County Clerk, told the committee that a county like his needs a full time county attorney.

At present the attorney draws $3,000 with the privilege of continuing private practice, Dahl said. But in practice the position requires an attorney's full time.

Dahl said the position ought to be made a full time one with a salary of perhaps $6,000 or $7,000 a year.

Si Green Collects 618th For Record

PITTSBURGH (AP)—All-America Si Green set a new one-season Duquesne record of 618 points Monday night, scoring 29 points to lead the Dukes' basketball team to a comeback 64-56 victory over St. Bonaventure.

Green broke the old individual scoring record of 606 points set by Dick Ricketts during the 1952-53 season. Green had already set a one game scoring record with 44 this winter.

Pioneers Golfers To Initiate Play By Appointment

The appointment system for playing golf on the Pioneers Golf Course will go into effect April 3, according to John Peterson, Pioneers pro.

Appointments must be made in person, by one of each group, from 8 a.m. Tuesday to 6 p.m. Friday for the following Saturday, Sunday or holiday. Appointments will not be issued on holidays.

A charge of 20 cents will be made for each appointment. The ball rack method of starting will be used alternately with appointments for those without appointments. Singles and twosomes may not use the ball rack until they have joined with others to make a threesome or foursome. The starter has the right to fill in three-somes.

If play is heavy the ball rack system will also be used during week days.

The appointment system was voted into effect by the playing public and accepted by the Pioneer Golf Association.

Spartans Nudge Michigan, 76-75

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Julius McCoy hit for 20 points and closed out his college basketball career with a record 1,377 points as Michigan State fought to a 76-75 victory over Michigan Monday night in the final game of the season for both teams.

Alabama Pressed But Tips Florida

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Alabama, newly crowned basketball champion of the Southeastern Conference, conquered Florida 82-75 Monday night—but had trouble doing it as the lead changed hands eight times.

The victory gave the Tide its first perfect league record in SEC history.

Missouri Nudges Nebraska In Finale

Ekwall Scores 26 But Cornhuskers Lose, 88-80

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—The Missouri Tigers beat the Nebraska Cornhuskers 88-80 Monday night and retained a chance to share the Big Seven Conference basketball championship. Monday night's game closed Missouri's season, with the Tigers holding a league record of 8-4.

Nebraska will close its season Thursday at Iowa State.

Missouri will tie Kansas State for the title should Kansas defeat Kansas State Tuesday night at Lawrence, Kansas. State's record now is 8-3, and Tuesday's game is the last for the Wildcats.

Missouri held a narrow 45-43 half-time lead Monday night and beat back one Nebraska rally after another in the last half.

Nebraska's Rex Ekwall was the hottest shooter on the floor. He poured in 26 points before fouling out in the final minute.

Chuck Denny of Missouri hit five buckets in a row in the first half and finished with 23 points, high for the Tigers. He was helped by Lionel Smith's 21 points and Norman Stewart's 20.

Stewart ran his season total to 504 points and his three-year total to 1,110, both all-time Missouri records.

Avila Still Holdout; Wertz Late

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Second baseman Roberto Avila remained a holdout Monday as the Cleveland Indians entered their second week of spring training.

Only other missing member of the Tribe is first baseman Vic Wertz, who was given permission to report late and now is overdue. Wertz is signed.

Manager Al Lopez planned to emphasize base-running, cut-off throws and bunting in this week's practice, with intrasquad games Tuesday and Thursday.

Meyer, Sauer Back In Action

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs returned to routine practices cheered by the return to form of two injured players.

Pitcher Russ Meyer, the ex-Dodger, gave his arm a severe test and insisted it no longer was bothering him. Meyer last week tossed a scare into the Cubs when he complained that his elbow had locked while making a quick move fielding a ball.

"I threw hard for about 15 minutes Sunday and the arm felt good," said Meyer.

Hank Sauer still has a sore ankle after turning it. But he powered a 400-foot hit in batting practice. Cub followers say he is hitting the ball more solidly this spring than he usually does this early in the season.

Iowa Dumps Indiana; Wins Big 10 Title

IOWA CITY, Ia. (INS)—Iowa won undisputed possession of its second consecutive Big Ten basketball championship Monday night with a routing 84-73 victory over Indiana before 14,900 fans at Iowa City.

The win gave Iowa a 13-1 conference record and climaxed the "showdown" victory over Illinois Saturday which broke a deadlock for first place in conference standings.

Indiana threw a scare into the Hawks during the first half and the Hoosiers led, 42-41, at the midway point.

Indiana pulled to a 44-41 lead before Iowa came alive. Bill Seaberg dumped in three field goals, Carl Cain and Bill Schoof each added one, and Iowa was out front, 55-47. The Hawks were never again in danger.

Iowa's "fabulous five"—Seaberg, Cain, Schoof, Bill Logan and Sharr Shueerman—received a rousing ovation when they left the game with Iowa in a safe lead.

Seaberg topped Iowa scoring with 21, followed by Cain with 18, Logan 17, Shueerman 14 and Schoof 12.

Wally Choice, Indiana's big gun, was high man for the game with 25.

Iowa Gov. Leo Hoegh joined students and fans in a gigantic "testimonial" rally following the game. The University of Iowa student council presented engraved scrolls to Coach Buckley O'Connor and members of the championship Iowa team.

O'Connor announced that Cain will play with the West team in the East-West College All-Star game at Madison Square Garden in New York City, March 31, and also has been invited to the college All-Star Olympic tryouts in Kansas City, Mo., April 2, 3 and 4.

Logan will play with the West team in the East-West All-Star game at Kansas City, March 26.

Colorado Nips OU, 67-66

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—Colorado whipped Oklahoma Monday night for the third time this season in a 67-66 finish to a Big Seven conference basketball game.

The Sooners wound up their league season with a final 1-11 mark. Colorado, which closes out against Kansas at Boulder Saturday, now has a 6-5 record.

Oklahoma trailed, 40-37, at half-time but the Sooners overtook the Buffaloes, 57-56, midway in the final period on a basket by LeRoy Bacher.

The visitors still held a 62-59 advantage with six minutes to go before Bill Peterson hit two free throws for Colorado and Dave Mowbray a jump shot to put the Buffs in front again.

Loes, Erskine Please Alston

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Billy Loes threw "bullets" and Carl Erskine "looked his best of the spring," said Manager Walter Alston following the Brooklyn Dodgers drill under a hot sun.

Erskine threw at three-quarter speed without pain. Loes went all out to the last two batters he faced. His shoulder hurt slightly but it didn't swell as it did last year, according to Trainer Dr. Harold Wendler.

Don Newcombe, who also had a sore arm at World Series time, was handicapped by a blister on his thumb but pitched for 15 minutes.

Pee Wee Reese, the injured captain, was much better Monday but stayed at his beach home.

St. Louis Salesman To Classic Lead

CHICAGO (AP)—Robert Bumb, 21-year-old St. Louis salesman, captured first place in the $152,000 Petersen Bowling Classic with an eight-game series of 1588.

Bumb rolled games of 195, 175, 269, 209, 215, 187, 193 and 145.

He replaced Lou Frantz III, Louisville high school student, in the lead. Frantz, 17, had taken top spot last night with 1586.

The meet runs through May 27.

Dons Still Lead Nation But Followers Shuffled

By HUGH FULLERTON JR. The Associated Press

If the San Francisco Dons are to start their defense of the National Collegiate basketball championship with anything less than the No. 1 national ranking, this week will have to take care of them.

Picked for the No. 1 spot in the pre-season balloting, the Dons maintained their position Monday in the 13th and semi-final Associated Press ranking poll of the 1955-56 season. The final votes will be cast next week, after everything has been completed but the national tournaments, and there's every indication San Francisco still will be on top.

The Dons, setting a record with every victory, racked up their 24th of the season and their 50th in a row over a two-year stretch last Saturday. Their final regular season game was against St. Mary's Monday night.

Meanwhile, the South's two major conference tournaments and the climactic games of the other conference races sent some favorites tumbling, elevated others and brought San Francisco's principal rivals for national honors into a tight cluster far behind the Dons.

The voting of 131 sports writers and broadcasters resulted in 73 first-place votes for San Francisco, 24 for Alabama's Southeastern Conference champions and a scattering of first for other teams. But the tabulation on the usual basis of 10 points for each first-place vote, 9 for second, etc., carried North Carolina State into second place and left Dayton in third place and Alabama fourth.

Illinois, holder of the second spot for the past few weeks, tumbled clear down to seventh after losing to Iowa in a key game in the big 10 race.

San Francisco polled 1,162 out of a possible 1,311 points. North

Sugar Ray's Delay 'Par For Course'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Postponement of the world's middleweight title bout to May 13 at request of champion Sugar Ray Robinson "is about par for the course," challenger Bobo Olson's manager, Sid Flaherty, said Monday.

"I don't believe Robinson is trying to duck us altogether," Flaherty added. "He always causes several date switches every time he's supposed to go in a big fight."

Robinson won the middleweight crown from Olson on a knockout at Chicago last December. The two were scheduled to meet again at Los Angeles April 20, but the bout was postponed at Robinson's request.

"He's got to fight us sooner or later, there's no way he can get out of it," said Flaherty. "I'm not overly concerned."

Freeman Misses Scoring Record

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Minnesota deprived All-America Robin Freeman of a Big 10 season scoring record Monday night by beating Ohio State 95-89 behind the 1-2 wall of Dave Tucker and Jed Donnemeyer.

Freeman, booming his farewell to college basketball, rammed in 33 points to fall short by 6 points in his spectacular bid to surpass the conference scoring mark of 459 points, set by Indiana's Don Schlundt in 1953.

Schlundt needed 18 games for his output and Freeman had only 14, but the jump-shooting marvel tied mightily Monday night. He bagged 16 points in the first half and 17 in the second, although he has had better luck from the field in the past. Many of his long-jumpers from the corners rimmed the hoop and dropped away.

DeMarco Batters Champ

BOSTON (AP)—Tony DeMarco, No. 1 welterweight contender, weathered a first-round knockdown to score a ninth-round technical knockout over bleeding lightweight champion Wallace (Bud) Smith Monday night in an unmerciful flurry at Boston Garden. The time was 45 seconds of the ninth round.

DeMarco weighed 145½, Smith 142.

DeMarco, appearing somewhat rusty and unable to follow up for the kill several times earlier when he had Smith sagging in the non-title bout finally rendered the 135-pound king almost helpless at the end of the eighth and finished the job in the ninth.

DeMarco was down from a Smith left hook to the chin after only 1:40 of the first round. He was on his feet at the count of four but took the compulsory eight count and appeared stunned and surprised at the turn of events through the next round.

Then Tony found the range with a short left hook in the third round that sent Smith down at 1:20. The 26-year-old Cincinnati boy got up at three and DeMarco could not finish the job.

It was the only time Smith was officially down in the scrap though the gamster looked like he was gone several times before the finish.

DeMarco tired himself badly for several rounds after the knockdown missing the shots as he did when he lost his title to Carmen Basilio in Syracuse and failed to regain it against him here.

Besides surviving his knockdown and his own wildness, DeMarco also had to overcome a good boxing lesson he took in the fourth and fifth rounds when Smith had him going crazy trying to make the kill and tiring in the effort.

The fight was in the best blood bath tradition of the two. Tony had lost two savage 12-round TKOs to Basilio while Smith had a stitch-taking party with Jimmy Carter when he lifted his crown in this same ring last summer.

In the non-television, non-radio bout attended by 7,851 fans who paid a net of $33,262, Smith opened a cut over DeMarco's left eye in the fourth round that bled off and on the rest of the fight.

Lose No Loser As Northwestern Shocks Illinois

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Last-place Northwestern averted a Big 10 shutout by upsetting second-place Illinois, 83-82, Monday night on a game-winning basket by Glen Lose.

It was Illinois' third loss in the last four games and Northwestern's only conference victory in 14 games as the Big 10 season closed.

Lose, who took scoring honors with 31 points, had spearheaded a second-half comeback and put the Wildcats ahead, 81-80, on a pair of free throws.

However, Harv Schmidt of Illinois hit on a short jump to put Illinois ahead before Lose's game-winning basket.

Ellsworth Aims Two At 'Derby'

ARCADIA, Calif. (INS)—Golden-touch Thoroughbred owner Rex Ellsworth aimed a new double-barrelled threat at the Kentucky Derby.

The flying finish of two Ellsworth colts in Saturday's $100,000 Santa Anita Derby moved them to the foreground as likely heirs to the crown worn by Swaps, their stablemate.

Terrang outran a field of 18 over the mile and one-eighth course, and the other Ellsworth entry, Like Magic, fought his way out of early trouble to finish fourth. Terrang was clocked at 1:51.

Ellsworth will fly both to Gulfstream Park today for the $100,000 Florida Derby on March 24.

Poirier Pummels Perez; Gets TKO

NEW YORK (AP)—Gene Poirier of Niagara Falls, N. Y., pummeled Danny Jo Perez of New York from all angles Monday night to score a technical knockout at the end of the eighth round of a scheduled 10 at St. Nicholas Arena.

Poirier weighed 151, Perez 148½. Poirier started miserably and was far behind on points for three rounds. But then the tide changed and it was Perez on the receiving end the rest of the way.

Poirier opened a cut over Perez' left eye in the sixth and by the end of the eighth, it was bleeding so badly, Dr. Alexander Schiff, of the New York State Athletic Commission refused to permit him to go out for the ninth.

Globe Trotters Offer Russell $25,000

CHICAGO (INS)—The Harlem Globe Trotters Monday offered Bill Russell, San Francisco's All-American basketball center a salary of approximately $25,000 to play with the world-famous cage team.

Harry Hannin, director of the world series of basketball, a cross country tour featuring the Trotters against the college All-Stars, reported in Chicago that the 6-foot, 10-inch Russell has been offered "a contract calling for between $20,000 and $25,000."

Hannin added that the offer was not made to counteract the ones made by two other traveling basketball teams, he explained:

"This is a legitimate offer we are making. I doubt that the other offers Russell has received can be maintained. I understand that two teams have offered him $50,000. Now I am wondering where they are going to get that kind of money. If they can come up with it, they are welcome to him."

Earlier Monday, Reese (Goose) Tatum and Marques Haynes, playing co-owners of the Harlem Magicians, announced they are willing to offer Russell, Morris Taft and Willie Naulls "better than $100,000 to play."

Haynes said: "We are willing to make Russell and Naulls (of UCLA) the highest salaried basketball players in the game, other than ourselves. And Taft won't be far behind."

Russell, one of the best players in college circles in recent years, is not likely to join any pro team until after this winter's Olympic games in Australia.

Hannin said "we have plenty of time to wait for Russell. We know he has expressed a desire to play in the Olympics."

Grimes Threatens Contempt Action

NEW YORK (AP) — The attorney for Wes Santee threatened contempt of court action against Avery Brundage Monday for a statement attributed to the president of the International Olympic Committee.

The attorney, Charles P. Grimes, also said he planned to try to get Congress to investigate operations of the IOC and the Amateur Athletic Union, with whom Santee is staging a running fight over a lifetime suspension.

"If Mr. Brundage was quoted correctly, then he was in clear contempt of court," said Grimes. "I warn him he had better stay out of the jurisdiction of New York courts or I'll try to have him cited."

Brundage was quoted at his Santa Barbara, Calif., home as saying that if he were an amateur runner he would not compete against Santee despite a New York Supreme Court injunction temporarily staying an AAU ban on the crack American miler.

The IOC president could not be reached immediately for comment on Grimes' statement.

Santee, whose 4:00.5 mile is the fastest ever run by an American, was handed a suspension on Feb. 19 by the executive committee of the AAU, which charged him with taking money over permissible expenses for participation in several track meets last year.

Last Thursday Grimes, arguing the AAU acted without proper jurisdiction, obtained an injunction from State Supreme Court Justice James McNally, forbidding the AAU from enforcing the

Hebron

Coach—Ralph Moerer. Nickname—Bears. Record—16-4.

The Bears' four losses were close ones—by seven points to Seward Concordia, by two points to Crete and by one point to Sutton and Minden. Hebron got through a tough district tournament and beat University High, 51-50, in a playoff.

The Hebron roster lists only one senior—playmaker Claude (Corky) Rowley. Mel Harmon, 6-5 junior center, is the scoring star. He is a fine rebounder and tip-in artist, and passes well off the post. Bob Hindman, Larry Dankenbring and Jim Killinger add scoring power.

Among the high points of Hebron's season were two wins over Class A Fairbury.

Wayne

Coach — Harold Maciejewski. Nickname — Blue Devils. Record —17-1.

This veteran team lost only to Class A champ Omaha Holy Name. The Blue Devils won the Husker League championship for the second straight year, and comes to the state tournament for the second time in three years.

Harold Maciejewski's 1954 club lost to the eventual champion,

Chadron

Coach—Verne Lewellen. Nickname—Cardinals. Record—14-9.

Chadron High ended its regular season with three straight losses and a 10-9 record. The Cards then bounced back to trim Kimball, Bridgeport and Bayard in the district tournament, and nipped Valentine 55-54 in a playoff.

The up-and-down Cardinals are led by Bob Crawford and Ron Jones.

The record:

Loup City

Coach—Cliff Colvin. Nickname—Red Raiders. Record—18-1.

Loup City's record is marred only by a 58-36 loss to Central City. The Red Raiders, a Class B state tournament entry in 1954, appear to have another strong club this season.

Loup City won the Trans-Nebraska Conference Northern Division championship, beating Class A toughie Ord twice in the process. Loup City also won the Three Loups title.

In their last outing, the Red Raiders beat Hastings St. Cecilia 48-46 in a playoff. St. Cecilia was the team that knocked out defending B champion Minden.

Jim Paige and Dale Rein, two-year regulars and members of Loup City's last tournament team, are the workhorses of this year's Raider club.

Geneva

Coach — John Haberman. Nickname—Wildcats. Record—13-6.

The Wildcats were a tough state tournament bidder in 1954 and return in 1956 with a strong club, if not a sparkling record. Geneva played many Class A and Class B schools, and suffered five losses to clubs of A or B classification.

Geneva had no close games in district tournament and playoff competition, and could be much tougher than its record. Larry Fiedler, veteran center, is a high scorer.

Clarkson

Coach—Bill Kropp. Nickname—Red Devils. Record—24-0.

Clarkson looms as the strongest Class C title contender. The Red Devils were runners-up to Clarkson last year, and to Chappell in 1953. This club may be tougher than either aggregation.

Clarkson's perfect record includes two victories over Class B toughie Columbus St. Bonaventure; two wins over Class B district win-

Host Fairbury Draws Bye In JC Meet

FAIRBURY—Pairings have been made for the NJCAA Regional Basketball Tourney here Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

First round games will throw Grandview of Des Moines, Ia., against Muscatine, Ia.; and Waldorf of Forest City, Ia., against Luther Junior College of Wahoo. Graceland College of Lamoni, Ia., and Fairbury College draw first round byes. The first game is at 7 p.m., the second at 9.

Graceland has been picked as a solid favorite to repeat as champion in the Region XI tourney. The Yellow Jackets boast a 19-5 season record.

Not to be overlooked are the Fairbury Bombers, who have a 16-4 season record and will be gunning for the third region title in four years.

Fairbury was the Region XI representative in the national tourney for two straight years, 1953 and 1954.

The National Junior College tourney this year will be held in Hutchinson, Kan., March 19-24.

Gavilan Bout Rescheduled

PARIS (AP) — The bout between Kid Gavilan of Cuba and Germain Ballarin of France, originally scheduled for Feb. 23, Monday was postponed for a second time due to Gavilan's illness.

At the time of the original postponement, to March 8, there were some newspaper hints that a poor box office during the extended cold wave had contributed to Gavilan's gripe.

Monday the former world welterweight titleholder was taken to a hospital where a physician diagnosed his trouble as tonsillitis. The bout now is not expected to be held before the third week of March.

Nashua's new racing silks—burnt orange and blue—the colors of Leslie Combs II, were made in France.

Red Cloud Coach Leaves Position

ARTHUR V. PHILLIPS, coach at Red Cloud for the past two years, has announced his resignation.

Last fall Phillips coached the Red Cloud football team to an undefeated season and the Big Eight Conference championship. Phillips plans to continue coaching, but has made no definite plans for the future.

Blonde Rallies, Wins Women's Open Title

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Tall, blonde Mickey Wright of San Diego, Calif., overcame a three-stroke deficit in the final round of the $5,000 Jacksonville Women's Open Golf Tournament Monday to win a 72-hole total of 294.

She picked up four strokes on Joyce Ziske to nose out the Waterford, Wis., lass by one stroke and win first-place money of $900.

St. Joseph's, Lafayette, A&M Join NIT Field

By The Associated Press

Only one berth remained open in the 12-team National Invitation Basketball Tournament today as Oklahoma A&M and two Pennsylvania teams, St. Joseph's of Philadelphia and Lafayette, accepted bids Monday.

"The NCAA championship tournament only has three spots unfilled in its nation-wide, 25-team field. Iowa became the latest entry last night, defeating Indiana 87-73 to win its second straight Big 10 conference title and gain an NCAA berth automatically.

The Big 7 and Ohio Valley Conference champions, as yet undecided, will fill two of the other vacancies while the third is reserved for the Southeastern Conference representative, being determined by a member vote.

Wagner of New York, a small college club with an 18-3 record, is a leading contender for the final NIT bid.

Oklahoma A&M, making its fourth NIT appearance after third-place finishes in 1938 and 1940 and a fourth-place showing in 1944, has a 17-8 record with one game remaining. Coach Henry Iba's Cowpokes can clinch a share of the runner-up spot in the Missouri Valley Conference with St. Louis by defeating Bradley tonight.

The Aggies eliminated St. Louis from consideration by dumping the Bills out of a possible title share with Houston last Saturday 52-49. Houston, as champion, gained an automatic NCAA berth.

This will be the first NIT for St. Joseph's (20-4), but the second for Lafayette (20-5), which lost to Niagara in the 1955 first round. The two Pennsylvania clubs meet tonight with Lafayette already holding a decision over St. Joseph's this season.

The rest of the NIT field lists defending champion Duquesne, Dayton, Louisville, Marquette, Xavier, Ohio, Niagara, Seton Hall and St. Francis of Brooklyn. The tourney runs March 17 through March 24 at Madison Square Garden.

The lineup for the NCAA preliminaries at Madison Square Garden has been announced. On Monday March 12 Temple and Holy Cross will play in the first game with North Carolina State and Canisius meeting in the second. On the next evening Connecticut and Manhattan meet in the opener with West Virginia presumably playing Dartmouth, the Ivy League champion, in the second.

No Replacement Yet For CU's Lee

BOULDER, Colo. (INS)—Harry Carlson, Colorado University athletic director, said Monday he expected to have a successor by April 1st for basketball coach H. B. (Bebe) Lee.

Carlson had no comment Monday following an interview with Harry Simmons, cage coach of the Pueblo Junior College.

Lee is in his last season as cage coach at CU, having accepted the athletic directorship of Kansas State College.

Wayne-Wakefield Highway Relocation Upheld

Lancaster District Judge Harry Ankeny upheld Monday the constitutionality of a bill passed by the last Legislature, defining what shall constitute Nebraska's state highway system.

The suit had been brought by northeast Nebraskans opposing the relocation of Highway 35 between Wayne and Wakefield. The legislation, LB 187, had the effect of relocating the highway.

In general, Judge Ankeny ruled against the plaintiffs and decreed that the action be dismissed.

Specifically, the judge held that a map prepared by the State Highway Commission and made a part of the bill had been "regularly and duly adopted" by the Legislature as the state highway system.

Not Local

He also held that this did not constitute "local or special legislation" of a type which the state constitution prohibits.

Plaintiffs included Merle Haynes, John D. Forsyth, Doyle Hanson, John Kinney, Joseph Beckenhauer, the City of Wakefield, and the Northeast Nebraska Public Power District.

The court ruled that the city's and the power district's rights, status, and legal relations are not affected by the legislation and the other plaintiffs "have not established any individual special, protectible right or interest."

Defendants in the action were Gov. Victor Anderson, State Engineer L. N. Rens, and Attorney General C. S. Beck.

Plaintiffs brought suit in District Court after the State Supreme Court declined last summer to accept the case as an original action.

Appeal Uncertain

Frank Morrison of Lincoln, attorney for the plaintiffs, said he could not immediately say whether Judge Ankeny's decision will be appealed.

In finding for state officials, Judge Ankeny said Rens and Gov. Anderson were operating under proper authority in Highway 35 relocation, on which work is now underway.

Furthermore, the court said, contractors who were awarded contracts since the legislation became effective should have been made parties to the suit, thus all necessary parties had not been joined in the action.

Plaintiffs had sought adjudication that no monies should have been expended on state highways under LB 187, the court said.

Attorney General Ralph Nelson, who represented the state, had contended all provisions had been complied with in passing the bill.

State Board Delays Action On New Auto Value Formula

The state Board of Equalization Monday listened to a new formula from Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington for fixing the taxable value on automobiles.

The proposal was taken under consideration by the board until Herrington can complete a like formula to take care of trucks and trailers so that all will be equalized.

"We may be able to complete the work so that the board can meet Friday," Herrington said. "However, we will have it for presentation by next week at the latest."

Difference Small

Last week at a conference with new car dealers, it was found that the difference between what they propose and the Herrington figures are but a small percentage.

Herrington would use the "average retail price" as a basis for fixing the value of all models and years of cars. It is 10 per cent less than the published fair price to used car dealers for older cars.

To this the board will have to decide the percentage of reduction to find the "basic value" as provided by the last Legislature. And that figure will in turn be divided in half for assessed valuation for tax purposes.

The board has not yet discussed the values on new cars to go on the market about Jan. 1, 1957.

Percentage Not Accurate

Herrington said that a set percentage reduction for cars over one year old could not be reached because some makes of cars depreciate faster than other makes. This was proven in an investigation of used car lots and newspaper ads.

After obtaining from dealers an admission that the National Automobile Dealers Association prices were somewhat inflated, Herrington said he decided to use dealers retail price and "as is" price and get an average. Difference between the two prices was about 20 per cent.

By reducing the price 10 per cent from retail price, Herrington said he believed he had obtained an adequate average.

Bryan Memorial Hospital Opens New Coffee Shop

A new coffee shop and snack bar opened Monday morning at Bryan Memorial Hospital.

Located on the ground floor at the north end of the hospital, the shop hours will be 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. This is an added convenience for the public, said Hospital Superintendent Eugene G. Edwards.

It is frequently inconvenient for people who want only a light snack to eat in the main dining room, said Edwards.

The new facility will serve both the public and employees.

Bryan Women's Board Sponsor of Lecture

The Women's Board of Bryan Memorial Hospital will sponsor a lecture and tea from 2 to 4 p.m. Thursday at St. Paul Methodist Church.

Mrs. David Bize will give an illustrated lecture on "Adventures and Enchanting Places Around the World."

Church Plane Lost

POINT BARROW, Alaska (AP)—An $18,000 airplane which fellow Presbyterians presented to the Rev. William C. Wartes for his work as a flying missionary in the Arctic came to grief on its home field here. While the missionary's plane was being warmed up for a search flight, another plane ran into it on an ill-fated takeoff attempt. Both planes were wrecked.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.* Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Field Windbreaks Can Save Crops

... NU Forester Reports '55 Findings

Dryland crops on many farms were actually saved by good windbreaks, University of Nebraska Extension Forester Karl Loerch said Monday in reporting that field windbreaks had proved their worth last year in the state.

Areas where such protection was lacking, he said, crops were destroyed by the hot, dry winds sweeping across them.

In addition to protection from winds, field windbreaks exert many other beneficial influences:

They tend to reduce the wind erosion problem on light soils.

Losses due to lodging, blow-down, and grain shattering are greatly reduced.

Evans Snow Cover

Windbreaks properly designed and located result in a more even distribution of snow over the cropland which will mean improved moisture conditions.

The forester concluded that good windbreaks, properly located, can mean the difference between a good crop or a complete failure.

He stressed importance of orientation of field windbreaks. Plantings located in an east-west direction result in increased yields almost double, those resulting from north-south plantings. This is due to the reduction of hot winds during the growing season and better distribution of snow during the winter months.

The amount of cropland protected by a windbreak depends upon the height of the planting. Adequate protection can be expected for a distance from the windbreak equally to 10-15 times the height. Thus, a windbreak with an average height of 30 feet would exert its influence over an area 300-450 feet wide. The proper distance between field windbreaks to achieve complete protection can be determined in this way when the ultimate height of the planting is known.

A recent survey made in a neighboring state shows the influence of field windbreaks. Data were collected for the crop years 1952, 1953, and 1954, during which time climatic conditions were near normal. Average annual increases in yield per acre for some of the major crops were as follows: Corn 8.5 bushels, oats 8.5 bushels, alfalfa 3 1/4 tons, wheat 3.5 bushels, soybeans 5.5 bushels and potatoes 80 bushels. During years of adverse climatic conditions the influence of windbreaks would undoubtedly be much greater than that indicated by the survey.

Carpet-Cleaning Discovery Hailed

What is said to be the "easiest and cleanest" home rug cleaner known as Blue Lustre is now available. It is the development of years of research.

Blue Lustre leaves no foreign residue in the nap after cleaning. The pile is left open and fluffy and the colors are restored to original brilliance as if by magic. All this plus the fact that it's easy to apply and safe for the finest fabrics makes Blue Lustre the answer to the wall to wall carpet cleaning problem.

Blue Lustre is a concentrate and inexpensive to use. A half gallon will clean three 9 x 12 rugs.

NU Religious Week Speaker Stresses Man's Need For God

Man must have God's assistance if he is to do good, avoid sin and persevere in the friendship of God to the end of life, the Rev. Gilbert Graham said Monday night in the second of his Religious Emphasis Week talks at the University of Nebraska.

Father Graham, retreat master for schools and colleges in the mid-west and south for the Dominican Fathers and Brothers, spoke at a convocation in Love Library Auditorium.

"God's grace," he said, "elevates man to the supernatural life."

Explains 'Grace'

Father Graham explained that grace is that supernatural help by which it is possible for man to realize his potentialities for life and action on a supernatural plane.

"Without grace man cannot attain his goal in life which is supernatural," he said. "The fallen man without grace in the supernatural order is much more helpless than the infant crying for the moon.

"Man cannot be satisfied with any goal less than the supernatural. Left to himself, he can not even know of his supernatural goal. He can only know his restless discontent."

Stocks Reach New Record High

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market hit another new record high Monday in a performance that matched Friday's rally to historic levels.

Gains Monday were extensive and pushed on to around $50 at the best. Gains of $1 to $2 were numerous. Losses weren't very frequent but they went to around $2.

Railroads started the ball rolling and strong help from the non-ferrous metals. The Interstate Commerce Commission said it granted the nation's carriers a 4.5 per cent freight rate increase, and there was a rush to buy rails at the opening of the stock market Monday.

Steels came early but faded into a mixed position at the close. Motors were mixed as well, and the airfracts showed a lot of losses. Chemicals, too, were mixed. Gains were shown by the oils, radiolux, utilities, and many individual stocks.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up $1.40, the same as Friday, and closed at $183.00, highest on record.

Sept. 23 the average hit a peak of $183.00, just before it slumped. Then the president became ill. About three weeks ago it started a rally that climaxed Friday's trading at a record of $183.00.

The American Stock Exchange was higher on heavy volume of 1,250,000 shares. Friday's trading total 1,070,000.

GOP Sen. Thye Claims 'Pressured' To Back Flexible Props

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. Edward J. Thye (R-Minn) disclosed Monday he has been under political pressure to switch his stand and vote for the administration's flexible price support program.

Thye made the disclosure in the Senate as the chamber continued debate on its omnibus farm bill containing Democratic-backed 90 per cent price supports on basic crops.

Thye said the pressure has come from political leaders of his own state. He later told an interviewer

Texas Housewife Pays $1.50, Finds Diamond Worth $15,000

MURFREESBORO, Ark. (AP)—A Texas tourist found a 15 1/2-carat diamond here at the only diamond mine in North America.

Estimated value of the stone is $15,000.

According to the rules of the mine, Mrs. A. L. Parker of Dallas will be permitted to keep all but the 25 per cent of the appraised valuation of the diamond which she must pay to the manager of the mine.

Probably Largest Ever

Mrs. H. A. Millar, wife of the manager, said she thought it was the largest surface diamond ever found in North America.

It probably is a sliver of a 200-carat or 300-carat diamond, she said.

Tourists are permitted to roam the mine, which isn't being worked, to search for surface diamonds.

They can keep any they find that are five carats or less. Larger diamonds must be shared with the management.

The white stone found by Mrs. Parker is 1 1/2 inches long, about 3/4 inch wide and about 1/4 an inch thick.

$1.50 Investment

Mrs. Parker, a 40-year-old Dallas housewife, paid $1.50 for the right to hunt diamonds.

Mrs. Millar, whose husband and that GOP leaders in Minnesota are "disappointed and have criticized me." But he said he felt strongly that the farm economy needs the bolstering of 90 per cent price supports.

Demo Sympathizes

Sen. Clinton B. Anderson (D-MN) in an exchange with Thye said he appreciated the Minnesota position. Anderson said it must be as embarrassing for Thye to oppose his own agricultural secretary, Ezra Taft Benson, "as it is for me to be agreeing with him."

Thye's disclosure attracted attention because Benson has spoken out strongly in Minnesota for flexible supports. Thye's colleague, Sen. H. U. H. Humphrey (D-Minn) has been one of Benson's most persistent critics and it is understood that Minnesota GOP leaders are annoyed at having their Republican senator side with Democrats against Benson.

Anderson, himself a former agriculture secretary, warned in a Senate speech that if wheat subsidies continue to rise, taxpayers may revolt against the entire farm program.

The senator predicted there will be "full planting" of wheat this year and said the wheat subsidy is now at 87 cents a bushel.

He warned: "If we keep on subsidizing wheat—and it moves up to $1 a bushel—eventually the taxpayer begins to assert himself. I do not want to lose all the programs this nation has."

9th And Van Dorn Rezoning Put Off

An ordinance for a change in zoning from residential to K light industrial at 9th and Van Dorn has been indefinitely postponed by the City Council.

Three other ordinances approved were:

Vacation of the north-south alley from Newton to Glade between 38th and 50th.

Making the violation of any city ordinance a violation as well of the liquor laws and grounds for revocation of liquor licenses.

Change in zoning from highway commercial to K light industrial south of Adams and west of the Cornhusker Highway.

Ordinances introduced:

Paving of 60th, Aylesworth to Colby, rules suspended and ordinance given first and second readings.

Water district in Locust, 52nd to 53rd.
